Waller County Judge Trey Duhon spoke at the Houston Executive Airport located between Katy and Brookshire for his State of the County address. During the speech, he detailed successes in budgeting, construction and a relatively easy redistricting process that Waller County went through in September, October and November. He also said the county has been able to lower its tax rate sufficiently to offset property value increases this year.

Duhon delivers State of the County address

BY R. HANS MILLER
NEWS EDITOR

Waller County Judge Trey Duhon delivered a formal State of the County address on Nov. 11 at the Houston Executive Airport. During his speech, he discussed recently adopted redistricting for the county, the challenges of Winter Storm Uri and COVID-19 and property taxes and budgeting.

"This (year's budget) is a huge first for us," Duhon said. "It is a true balanced budget. We've always balanced our budget on a deficit. There are some things we budget for (on a projection). A lot of times, it's indigent health care. This time we actually have a true balanced budget."

Duhon said Waller County's overall budget is about $53.6 million with about $42 million coming from taxes, especially property taxes, and the remainder coming from various grants. While many homeowners have seen increases in appraised values for their properties, the county was able to reduce its tax rate enough to offset those increased values, in part due to an additional 10% in added value to the value of property in the county as a whole. That added value came in the form of new construction in both the residential and industrial sectors, he said.

The county's Road and Bridge Department has been allotted about $1.6 million more than it was last year to maintain and improve roads countywide, Duhon said.

About $1.8 million of that funding will go to increase the budget of the Waller County Sheriff's Office to hire more officers, investigators and jail staff, Duhon said. Focusing on fighting crime which is on the rise in areas near the Houston Metropolitan Area is a priority for the entire Waller County Commissioners Court, he said.

Duhon noted that the county had completed construction on the new Waller County Jail, Precinct 4 Annex on Highway 90 between Katy and Brookshire and improvements to the Waller County Library in Hempstead.

Next on the county's agenda to get an upgrade is the Waller County Courthouse, Duhon said. The current courthouse was built in 1955 and needs serious repairs with a boiler system that is broken down, an HVAC system that is no longer functioning well and several other maintenance issues. Duhon said that he and county commissioners and staff were looking at options on how to address the issue, including a possible replacement of the facility.

The current courthouse is the fourth in the county's history, Duhon said. The first was established in 1877 in a one-room log cabin. Later, in 1892, that facility burned down and another was constructed. In 1944, another building was utilized and the current courthouse followed.

"At the end of the day, we need a courthouse that is functional and long-lasting," Duhon said. "So, no matter what we do going forward, that's going to determine our direction."

The event was sponsored by the Waller County Economic Development Partnership, and Duhon deferred to EDP President Vince Yokum regarding the county's economic status.

Yokum added that about 3.2 million square feet of space had been developed under those 35 projects and the group is currently working with several other projects to provide economic opportunities to Waller County residents.

KISD continues growth trend, seeks feedback on ESSER

During its regular meeting, the Katy ISD Board of Trustees discussed obtaining community feedback regarding the use of federal money from the Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief Fund and heard an update on the district's rapidly increasing population.

"The 2021 data continues to show that Katy ISD is the fastest-growing school district in the Greater Houston area, having grown by over 11,000 students in the past five years alone," said KISD Chief Operations Officer Ted Vierling. "As the district continues to build out, we must Katy ISD's overall student body is expected to continue to grow rapidly over the next several years as more homes are built within the district. As a result, KISD will need to add capacity to existing facilities, adjust attendance boundaries and build new campuses. Funding for much of this work was approved by voters earlier this year during a May bond election.

Pattison council eyes infrastructure needs

BY R. HANS MILLER
NEWS EDITOR

During a Nov. 7 special meeting, Pattison City Council members addressed planning for the future of the town by examining infrastructure. Projects considered included regional wastewater and fire protection surveys, city limit boundary clarifications and beginning the remodel of the new Pattison City Hall at 3410 First Street.

"The locks on the doors and the doors themselves are very old and not secure. This building is over 40 years old. I'd like to secure the buildings safely and secure the locks," Mayor Joe Garcia said.

Council unanimously voted to replace the doors and locks on the building as well as the HVAC system. They also approved the removal of trees that presented a falling hazard and a shed on the property that has fallen into disrepair. The facility's septic system will also be repaired or replaced. Council members approved a budget of about $150,000 to purchase and remodel the building to

Katy Cares

Organization aims to support single parents

BY R. HANS MILLER
NEWS EDITOR

Katy Cares works to lift up single parents and give them the skills to manage their households and ensure their children have a high quality of life, said Dawid Pieterse, president of the local nonprofit. Pieterse, who holds a doctorate in theology, explained that the group focuses on parenting education and counseling for single parents who have faced physical abuse or other traumas.

"(Katy Cares) started off as a nonprofit, providing housing and trauma-informed counseling services for single mothers, specifically," Pieterse said. "We have moved to providing trauma-informed counseling through three different programs ... where we approach the family holistically."

Those programs - dubbed Ready, Set, Go!, Grow Through Life and Safari Adventures -

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Answers will be provided in next week's edition.

assist family members of all age groups deal with the challenges single-parent households face, Pieterse said.

The Ready, Set, Go! program is directed toward single parents, both mothers and fathers, who are facing the daunting task of raising children on their own. There is no cost to enroll in the eight-module program. Participants learn parenting skills that help them balance between the need for discipline and compassion for their children by establishing routines and boundaries that help both the parent and their children become successful. Each class is six people that, in essence, form a support group, Pieterse said. While they cover the program materials over a year to 18 months, they also support one another in job hunting, babysitting and other ways that any other group of friends would.

“The weekly group sessions are three hours, then they each have at least an hour or two of individual counseling,” Pieterse said.

In the Grow Through Life program, teens aged 11-15 learn skills to cope with living in a situation where their parents no longer live together and one may be absent entirely, Pieterse said. The program helps them gain perspective on the situation, develop communication and basic life skills and make an overall smoother transition from adolescence into adulthood.

To round out the holistic approach, Pieterse said Katy Cares has partnered with Attack Poverty to create the Safari Adventures program for elementary-age children. Similar to Grow Through Life, this program focuses on helping participants learn communication skills. Additionally, the program helps them understand self-worth, how to handle difficult social situations, and how to use their emotions in a healthy manner.

“What we say is we’re trying to holistically approach this family and work with every member in the family with the same principles so that they can grow (and) develop to the next level, being a single-parent-led family and overcoming the trauma and the challenges,” Pieterse said.

This new three-tier service model is expected to help Katy Cares reach more families in need of assistance, Pieterse said. Rather than providing housing and by expanding training, the program will be able to impact about 120 families a year rather than the 30-40 families under the old model. That efficiency will help the non-profit, which is dependent upon the community’s donations, have more reach and do more overall, he said.

Pieterse said more than 5,000 single parents are in the Katy area with an estimated 12,000 in dysfunctional domestic situations. Providing tools and resources for single parents and victims of abuse is the main goal of the program.

Amy, a Katy Cares client whose last name is not used in order to protect her privacy, said the Katy Cares program has been incredibly useful to her and her family.

“It’s nice to have a group of other women that are in the same position in life that I am in trying to accomplish the same goals with their kids,” Amy said. “It’s really nice to know you’re not alone – like, really nice to know that. It’s given me the tools to know how to parent my boys on my own.”

Three Scenarios of Growth

POPULATION AND SURVEY ANALYSTS

Demographers with Population and Survey Analysts say Katy ISD will likely exceed 104,000 students by 2031. The dotted white line is the most likely total, but the green area above shows the overall anticipated range if current growth trends within the district’s geographic boundaries continue as expected.

plan accordingly so that we are always positioned to continue providing unparalleled educational experiences to the over 88,000 students that we serve.”

Pat Guseman, a demographer with Population and Survey Analysts – also known as PASA – said the district continues to see rapid growth, especially in the northwestern portion of KISD’s geographic bounds. That growth is projected to take the district’s current enrollment of about 88,000 to nearly 97,000 by 2026 and more than 104,000 by 2031. To address that growth, Guseman said the district would need to add another high school, increase student capacity at Schmalls Elementary, adjust zoning for Golbow Elementary and add another elementary in the northwestern portion of the district to prevent or relieve overcrowding at Bethke and Leonard elementaries. The new high school campus would relieve pressure at Paetow and Katy high schools, she said.

Funding for the additional campuses and renovations was approved earlier this year when KISD voters approved a $676.2 million bond package, Guseman said.

Estimates in population increases reflect additional subdivisions and apartment complexes coming to the Katy area, she added.

Trustees also heard from staff regarding plans to use ESSER funds. The federal money is restricted in how it may be used, staff said. The federal money is generally intended to help schools address learning losses caused by the COVID-19 pandemic and assist with returning students to campuses safely.

Staff explained that the district is focusing on mental health, counseling, nursing staff, college and career advising and programs to otherwise help students catch up to their grade levels after setbacks associated with virtual education.

To review the district’s ESSER plans, district residents may visit <https://bit.ly/KISDESSER>. Anyone wishing to provide feedback to the district regarding the use of ESSER funds may email the district at ESSER@katyisd.org. Feedback must be received no later than Nov. 30.

Trustees also:

- Recognized Morton Ranch High School alumnus and 2020 Olympic Gold Medalist Tamyra Mensah Stock for her achievements as an athlete.

- Recognized Taylor High School’s Future Farmers of America chapter for its national championship earned in October.

- Approved remodeling plans for Katy Elementary School (more information will be provided on this topic in our next edition).

- Approved remodeling plans for the Miller Career and Technology Center.

- Approved the financial reports for September 2021 and budget amendments for November 2021.

- Observed four new KISD Police Department officers get sworn in.

- Approved curriculum changes for the district’s standard and honors courses.

- Heard from parents regarding their objection to books they deemed “pornographic” in content being included in KISD libraries.

- Approved the formation of a committee to name KISD Elementary No. 44. Those wishing to submit a naming recommendation should send their suggestion to schoolnaming@katyisd.org.

meet the city’s needs.

Garcia said that, while the project may be expensive, it still saves the city money in comparison to building the facility from the ground up and a city hall has been a need for some time.

“Our city council before had discussed a city hall going back into the 70s,” Garcia said. “In the 80s they had designed a city hall in Pattison for a cost of about $46,000 which included a bay for the fire department. ... I’m very proud to say that we have a city hall tonight because it’s taken us almost 50 years of city history to get there.”

City Engineer Charles Kalkomey, a contractor through civil engineering firm Jones and Carter, and Garcia also discussed two surveys with council members.

The first survey is a proposed regional wastewater survey that would examine the costs and feasibility of creating a regional wastewater treatment facility for Pattison and the surrounding area. Currently, Pattison residents are on septic systems; however, those systems are suspected to be close to their end of life and will need to be replaced in some manner. Garcia said the city had about 160 on-site septic systems back in the 1970s when this issue was first examined and he is checking with Waller County to see how that number has grown since then. Garcia said he had reached out to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality to discuss any grant or assistance programs the city might participate in to mitigate any impact to the city’s budget. TCEQ told him there may be an opportunity for an 80/20 split in costs, depending on Pattison’s qualifications. The city does not currently assess a property tax against residents to pay for such items and is dependent on sales tax revenues, Garcia said.

A similar study was proposed for fire protection.

“Our protection we have now is totally contingent on a limited water supply system,” Garcia said. “Our protection that we get now would be basically chlorinated water.”

Garcia noted that any serious demand on the city’s current water supply, such as in the event of a fire, would decrease water pressure for all residents. While he said the city is fortunate to have a good fire department with the tools they need to fight fire, without a sufficient water supply, that protection could be hampered. Nearby wells on rice fields and other options could be looked at to supplement the city’s firefighting needs, Garcia said.

The city’s current water system that its fire hydrants are connected to has four-inch to six-inch lines, Garcia said. Ideally, a fire hydrant should have a 12-inch line that is tapered down to an eight-inch line to increase pressure at the hydrant, he said.

While the study was approved, council members observed that three entities would have to look at who was responsible for any improvements.

“We’ve got three entities,” Council Member Seth Stokes said. “You’ve got the fire station. You’ve got the (Pattison Water Supply Corporation board) and the city. Who’s responsibility are all of these pieces?”

The next Pattison City Council meeting is set for Dec. 2 at 7 p.m. at the Royal ISD Administration Building at 3714 FM 359 in Pattison.

COUNTY

Challenges would come as those projects move forward, Yokom said, because the county needs to address infrastructure concerns to ensure high-quality companies wanted to locate their operations there. Like many rural Texas counties, Waller’s infrastructure is not ideal, he said. However, with the county government’s help, he said he believes opportunities can come about.

Yokom compared the county’s economy to various laws or theories of physics. He said the EDP is working hard to bring projects that will diversify Waller County’s economy and build momentum to bring jobs to the area in a variety of fields.

He also noted that the EDP is being choosy regarding which projects it tries to bring into the county and may work to stop projects that would be detrimental to the community.

“I’ve got folders on my desk with 200 projects that did not come to our county in comparison to the 35 projects we have successfully ran,” Yokom said.

Editor’s note: For more information regarding Waller County’s recent redistricting, see our last issue or visit us online at katytimes.com.

Is there detention in Sunday School?

If you ever want to test the limits of your patience, your sanity and your ability to avoid bursting your gizzard from laughing out loud at exactly the wrong moment – in church – try teaching a junior high boys' Sunday school class sometime.

You'll thank me or hunt me down to kill me... or maybe both.

My parents started bringing me to church from the time my mother thought I was just an annoying gas bubble, and they continued taking me until the pains I caused went far beyond anything a dose of Mylanta could relieve. So you might say Sunday school is in my blood – or at least my bowels.

My wife and I have been teaching our three daughters' Sunday school classes since they were in kindergarten. In fact, I've been told that teaching kids' Sunday school is my spiritual gift. But after doing it for 18 years, I'm pretty sure it's a spiritual gag gift, and God has enjoyed every minute of it.

When we taught elementary-age Sunday school, it was all crafts, Bible stories, and sing-alongs. The main things I worried about then were getting someone to the potty in time (including myself), misplacing someone during a trip to the potty, or failing to memorize the Bible verse of the week and being shown up by some seven-year-old theological prodigy who could recite the Lord's Prayer in Aramaic – on the way to the potty.

But the real fun of teaching Sunday school to elementary-age kids was getting them in a circle on the carpet for group prayer time, when some of them took the opportunity to reveal their most embarrassing family secrets. What started out as a solemn and reverent time of sharing often transformed into a combination of "Dr. Phil," "Maury," and "Kids Say the Darndest Things." If, for example, someone prayed for their Aunt Roxanne's impending fourth marriage to take place in the county detention center visitor's area, all I could do to maintain order was say a quick "Amen" and ask if anyone needed to go to the potty. (Everyone always did.)

of junior high boys, which is like trying to discuss theology trapped in an overcrowded zoo exhibit of agitated spider monkeys. Based on my experience and careful study of classroom management techniques, I've found that for adolescent male children, a generous supply of Little Debbie Treats and Jolly Ranchers provides an effective, short-term source of positive reinforcement—also known as bribery.

But sometimes, even the persuasive qualities of high fructose corn syrup can't calm the onslaught of pubescent doofusness. In fact, during a recent Sunday morning small-group lesson, I asked the boys to give me an example of how believers can offer acceptable praise to the Lord. One of my "regulars" responded by lifting his right hip and releasing a thunderous blast that ricocheted off of the hard-plastic chair and reverberated throughout the cavernous church youth building. All I could think to do was say a quick "Amen" and ask if anyone needed to go to the potty. (Everyone did.)

Moments like these only strengthen my firm belief that God has a keen sense of humor. How else can you explain ear, nose and back hair? It also reminds me that one time long ago, I, too, was a junior high goober tormenting my long-suffering Sunday school teachers with uncontrollable giggling when they read any Bible verse containing the word "loins."

I guess it's true that "what goes around comes around," and lots of problems can still be solved with a quick trip to the potty. Amen!

Money, money, money...

Slick Willie Sutton, the 1930's bandit who favored elaborate disguises, was once asked why he robbed banks. He famously replied, "Because that's where the money is."

Oh, how times have changed. The other day my daughter, Stephanie, walked into the Chase branch in South San Francisco, seeking 16 quarters to do her laundry. She was informed by the teller: "We don't handle cash anymore."

Wait, what? A bank that refuses to give or take...money?

I phoned the branch seeking clarification. "We have all the services other branches offer," the manager explained, "except we don't handle coins or bills. No cash."

The nation was moving away from cash even before the pandemic, but COVID-19 added to the jitters, especially when the CDC issued guidance last year urging merchants to use "touchless payment options." Seems some businesses actually prefer it that way.

Major retailers — from Starbucks to Whole Foods —

PETER FUNT

SPECIAL TO THE KATY TIMES

have experimented with no-cash retailing. In response, some municipalities and a few states have passed laws making it illegal to refuse cash. Oddly, there is no federal law requiring businesses to accept cash, even though the Coinage Act of 1965 states: "United States coins and currency (including Federal reserve notes and circulating notes of Federal reserve banks and national banks) are legal tender for all debts, public charges, taxes, and dues."

Try telling that to a flight attendant who will only accept a credit card for a Coors Light.

Aside from the fact that refusing cash discriminates against those who don't have bank accounts or credit cards, the muddle about whether or not to deal with currency makes it difficult for all of us.

Motorists know this all too well. Modern parking meters won't accept coins, only credit or debit cards. Many bridges and highways no longer take cash for tolls. At the same time, most gas stations want you to pay with cash and will jack up the price if you prefer to use a credit card.

On a recent business trip I rented a car from Avis that did not have an E-ZPass toll device. On the thruway I encountered a toll plaza that would not accept cash for a $2.22 charge. New York State billed Avis and a few weeks later Avis billed me, adding its own $5.95 "Convenience Fee," for a total of $8.17. This I paid by credit card.

I still stop and pick up coins on the sidewalk, an act my mother said brings good luck. I toss them into a large jar, which for more than a decade I've been planning to take to a bank. I suppose that's still possible somewhere, although clearly not at the Chase branch in South San Francisco.

KARE celebrates 20 years of service

BY R. HANS MILLER
NEWS EDITOR

Katy Area Retired Educators celebrated 20 years of serving the Katy ISD community on Nov. 6, said KARE President Earlene Hopkins. The group commemorated with a party during their November meeting which included musical acts by Katy ISD students.

"They played 'Celebrate' of course and then 'We Are Family' and it was a fun time," Hopkins said.

The event included visits from Senator Joan Huffman (R - Houston), Katy Mayor Bill Hastings, Mayor Pro Tem Chris Harris, and Katy ISD Trustee Rebecca Fox, Hopkins said. Hastings read a proclamation honoring KARE members for their service to the community and describing its history of service. Hopkins said the organization provides advocacy at the state level for those who have worked for educational institutions, donates scholarships to KISD students interested in a career in education, supplies volunteers for KISD campuses and offers an opportunity for retirees to socialize and support

"(When we first started), I think our mission was just to connect with other retirees and talk about fun times that they had, and also, what can they do to improve their lives, you know," Hopkins said. "They wanted to enrich the lives of retirees, and that was their first mission. We've expanded that mission, I feel, like to a whole lot of things."

Hopkins said the last two decades have seen the expansion of the KARE program to include several committees. These include the Healthy Living, Informative and Protective Services, Community Volunteer Services, Legislative, Books Project, Retirement Education and Scholarship committees. Through these committees, the organization helps retirees stay healthy, avoid scams and give back to the education community through volunteering, book donations and scholarships, she said. Those committees help retirees contribute and have purpose while focusing on their favorite parts of education.

"We're still in the education community and we're still giving back," Hopkins said. "The thing with KARE is that we're getting to do all the things we love to do, but you know, we put our passion into that one certain thing that's fun. You really don't have to sign up for all the committees - you just do what you want to do."

EDUCATION BRIEFS

BY R. HANS MILLER
NEWS EDITOR

Promise to Read kicks off

Katy ISD in a joint effort with Partners in Education began its annual Promise to Read program earlier this month, according to a Katy ISD press release. The program, which is available to all elementary students with the district, offered community members a chance to go into classrooms and read to learners in Pre-K through fifth grade. The books were handpicked by KISD librarians.

Aggie professor finds ancient skull

Texas A&M University professor of anthropology Darryl de Ruiter participated in a project in South Africa that led to the discovery of a partial skull belonging to a small child thought to have died at least 250,000 years ago. The fossilized remains belonged to a human ancestor known as homo Naledi and are thought to have belonged to a youth between 4 and 6 years of age. De Ruiter and fellow archaeologists are hopeful that the skull will help answer questions about a time when no humans were thought to have lived in that part of the African continent.

Governor, parents concerned about library content

Texas Gov. Greg Abbott has called on the state's education regulators to examine the presence of what he referred to as "pornographic" content in school libraries. During the Nov. 15 Katy ISD Board of Trustees meeting, several parents agreed with Abbott's assessment and called upon board members to establish an audit of books on KISD library shelves. Some read excerpts of books they found offensive -- which they said could be found in junior high and high school libraries in the district -- which described scenes of a sexual nature.

M.D. Anderson gives $1M to UH

The M.D. Anderson Foundation has pledged $1 million to the University of Houston College of Medicine, according to a Nov. 15 UH press release. The gift will be used to establish an endowed professorship in medicine to be held by a leader in health care innovation to be recruited for the college. The gift was matched by an anonymous donor which brings the endowment to $2 million in support of the medical school's goal of improving health and health care in underserved communities in Greater Houston and across Texas.

Katy downs Clements for bi-district title

The bi-district round isn't new for Katy. The Tigers knew what they needed to do on Friday and took care of business.

"That's the expectation here," said senior defensive end Malick Sylla. "We come in and prepare every week so we'll be ready for these games. There's some things we could have done better and that we need to clean up as well."

The Tigers, behind three interceptions and four touchdowns from Dallas Glass, cruised past Fort Bend Clements 56-7 in the Class 6A, Division II bi-district round at Legacy Stadium, setting up a meeting next week with Stratford at 7 p.m. next Friday at Tully Stadium.

Seth Davis got Katy started on their opening possession, breaking off runs of 22 and 13, before Dallas Glass took over and ran in a 1-yard touchdown for the game's first score.

Katy used Davis sparingly in its first post-season game, as the junior rushed eight times but still had 102 yards.

Katy had only the one score in the first quarter, but broke the game open in the second.

Early in the second quarter, Malick Sylla read a screen pass from Clements and intercepted it, returning the interception ten yards for a touchdown.

"All the credit for that goes to my scout team," Sylla said. "I've seen that screen probably 100 times this week. It felt good, I was prepared for it and had seen it all week. The coaches let us know how to see it and I just was able to make a play."

Glass scored on runs of 11 and 5 in the quarter as Katy took a 28-0 lead into the half.

"That's just what they do, the defense makes play and Malick does that on the regular," said senior receiver Antonio Silva. "I feel like it's all in us to make plays like that and it motivates us. We were made to do that."

Glass capped off his day with a 5-yard run in the third quarter to give Katy a 35-point lead. The junior finished with 110 yards on 21 carries to go with his three touchdowns.

Nathan Wilson scored on a touchdown run and Elijah Bowman threw a touchdown to Ramarian Tillman with backups in before Clements got a consolation touchdown late in the fourth.

Sylla capped things off with an 81-yard kickoff return for a touchdown on the ensuing kickoff.

"It was amazing," Silva said. "I saw a wide-

Kentrell Webb is a jack of all trades for the Paetow defense.

As a three-year letterman, team captain and signal caller for the defense, the senior safety has many responsibilities for the team.

"He is the heart and soul of our defense," said Paetow head coach B.J. Gotte. "He's the leader, he's the alpha and he is that guy that those guys rally behind. His versatility is what makes him special, he can do a lot. He's a three-year starter and he's really leading those guys. It's fun to watch."

Webb put his talents on full display on Thursday at Legacy Stadium against Galveston Ball, as the senior intercepted a pass in the first quarter and returned it 44 yards for a touchdown, helping Paetow break the game open in what would ultimately turn into a 54-0 win over Ball in the Class 5A, Div. I bi-district round.

"We were in our nickel package and they had worked me there in practice and my coach taught me how to play it," Webb said. "We had watched a lot of film on it because that's where it all starts. I read the No. 1 receiver coming to the inside and the quarterback threw it to him so I made the play. Really it was my coaches and my defensive line that made the play possible. Once I had the ball I just had to do what I do. I made people miss and got in the endzone."

Damyrion Phillips started the night off with scoring on a 76-yard run on the second play from scrimmage. Paetow scored later in the quarter on a 13-yard pass from CJ Dumas to Kole Wilson before Webb's interception return put Paetow up three scores in the first quarter.

Phillips ran in two more touchdowns in the second quarter and Jacob Brown also rushed for two scores in his first game back from injury.

Having the two backs as a one-two punch for the playoffs is a relief for the team and they can't wait to incorporate Brown into the offense more as the team continues their playoff run.

"There's no drop off between either of them," Dumas said. "If one gets tired after a few drives the other comes in and pick up right where he left off. It's a great thing to have, we can just keep

Cinco Ranch earns first playoff win since 2016

BY ANDRES CHIO
SPECIAL TO THE KATY TIMES

After four years of missing the playoffs, Cinco Ranch earned the school its first playoff victory since 2016 in a resounding 44-0 shutout over Fort Bend Bush Friday at Rhodes Stadium.

It was an emotional win for a program that went 1-17 over the last two seasons before turning things around this year.

"The program has come a long way through the first three years now and it means so much to these seniors who saw us through it," head coach Chris Dudley said.

The Cougar defense allowed the Broncos to pick up just 108 yards of offense and forced two turnovers, an interception and a fumble.

"We wanted to make them have to do what they're uncomfortable doing and that's exactly what we did," senior defensive end and team captain Zach Dycus said.

Bush threw the ball 28 times to just 14 rushes, which was not the regular play-calling pattern for the defensive-minded, run-first team.

carried the ball eight times on the 10-play drive and finished it with a 6-yard touchdown run.

"They're a physical defense and they do a lot of press & man coverage on the edge and you gotta make them pay for that," Dudley said, "Our offensive line did a great job of being able to move people up front."

Junior Colten Michalec blocked a punt on Bush's next drive to give the Cougars the ball on the Bronco 33-yard line.

Tompkins tops Travis behind four interceptions

BY ANDRES CHIO
SPECIAL TO THE KATY TIMES

Katy Tompkins defeated Fort Bend Travis 49-21 Thursday at Rhodes Stadium on the back of four interceptions by the defense and four rushing touchdowns by sophomore Wyatt Young.

The Tompkins defense got started early as on the second play of the game, senior linebacker Cole Binkley broke up a pass and senior defensive back Tyler Collins intercepted the ball, returning it 16 yards for a Falcon touchdown.

"We just wanted to come out fast and that's what we did," Collins said.

The Tompkins offense did not have the same success on their first two possessions as the offensive line allowed three sacks to stop the drives cold.

The third drive was the charm as Tompkins started on the Travis 31 yard line after a short punt. After picking up a first down on three plays, sophomore quarterback Wyatt Young ran the ball out of the wildcat formation and ran through a defender on his way to a 16-yard touchdown.

The two defenses allowed just a combined 41 yards of offense in the first quarter despite the 14-0 score, but the defensive battle shifted as the offenses found success with deep passes in the second quarter.

Travis took advantage first on a 46-yard touchdown pass to senior receiver Gabriel Van Wyk from senior quarterback Anthony Njoku.

Tompkins answered back quickly as their own pair of seniors, quarterback Cole Francis and receiver Joshua McMillan. The two connected on a 43-yard deep route to get the ball to the Travis 13-yard line. Two plays later, Young ran in his second touchdown of the game on a 4-yard rush.

With less than a minute remaining, Travis' junior receiver Robert Sims beat his defender for a 58-yard touchdown pass to make it 21-14 for Tompkins at the half.

"We had a couple miscommunications on the back end and allowed two cheap touchdowns," Collins said. "We were kind of getting down on ourselves, but we talked at the half, came out and knew we had to finish this game."

Njoku threw the ball well to start the third quarter, but the Falcons defense found its footing as senior defensive back Ethan Rawlins intercepted a pass and returned it 50 yards to the Tiger 35-yard line.

The Falcons wasted no time as senior receiver Chidubem Lebechi slipped past the Travis linebackers and caught a pass from Francis for a 35-yard touchdown.

After another defensive stop, Young led the Falcons up the field and finished the drive with a 9-yard touchdown run, his fourth touchdown of the game.

Young finished the game with 97 yards rushing on nine runs and 57 yards receiving on five catches. It was the sophomore's second game with four touchdowns, his first was against Morton Ranch earlier this season.

"(Young) does a lot of good things with the ball in his hands, the offensive line blocked well and he hit the creases when he needs to. He did an outstanding job and I'm proud of him," head coach Todd McVey said.

Young said the Falcons just had to stick with the game plan and roll with what worked.

"All of our shifts and motions confused them so I just took advantage of it," Young said.

The Tigers responded with a three play, 65-yard drive up the field capped off by a 20-yard rushing touchdown by senior running back Jamison Singleterry.

The drive was aided by a 15-yard facemask penalty on the second play to send Travis into the redzone. Penalties plagued the Falcons all night as the team gave up 100 yards due to penalties.

Tompkins forced another pair of interceptions out of Njoku on the next two Travis drives, one by senior cornerback Cody Chapman and another by junior defensive back Samuel Kalu, which sealed the game.

Njoku had a 48 percent completion percentage on 29 passes and 48 yards rushing on 18 attempts as a result of the Tompkins defensive scheme.

"We kept him kind of in the pocket like we wanted to. He's improved and he kept us on our heels," McVey said.

Overall, Tompkins held Travis' offense to just 302 yards while putting up over 400 yards against its defense.

"It just builds confidence and we just need to keep building energy and keep going," Wyatt said.

Tompkins will face the winner of Jersey Village and Houston Westside next week in the Area round of the playoffs.

"It was amazing," Silva said. "I saw a wide-open hole and went for it. I trusted my blockers, running away from everyone and stiff arming the last person just felt like finishing a maze, when I got into the touchdown it felt like I was entering heaven."

Despite the big win, the Tigers know they will need to be better on both ends going forward, and hope to continue to get healthier.

"Some of our coverage stuff is going to have to be better," said head coach Gary Joseph. "That goes back to getting all the ones back who are hurt. Hamilton McMartin came back this week after not playing last week. We have guys coming back and getting people back into the swing of things is as big as anything else."

Katy's has bigger goals than just the area round and will keep trying to find ways to improve everyday.

"We have to keep focus and have determination," Silva said. "We have to make sure we keep our commitments — that's not hard for us because that's what Katy is about and what we strive for. We do that, I think we're going to make it all the way."

the momentum going throughout the entire game without any breaks or anything like that.”

Paetow took a 40-0 lead into half time but didn't let up in the second half. The Panthers marched straight down the field and Brown scored his second touchdown of the night on a 3-yard run where he dragged multiple defenders into the endzone with him. Jalyn Richardson put the game to bed in the fourth quarter with a 6-yard run in the fourth quarter.

In all, Phillips finished with 168 yards on 13 carries while Brown had 59 on nine carries.

“I'm so happy for Jacob to get back,” Gotte said. “Him being a senior and having the kind of year he was having prior to his injury, for him to work hard and get back, it's just awesome. I'm so happy for him. It's good, and I'm so excited he's back.”

The Paetow defense knew that Ball would try to challenge them in the air, and took it as a challenge. The Panthers responded by allowing just 86 yards through the air and intercepting Bush three times.

“We knew coming in that they were a big passing team so it was going to be fun for us,” Webb said. “We like that, sometimes you can get lulled to sleep when they run it a lot but they went pass like that it makes it exciting and we have fun. It was a challenge but we capitalized.”

The Panthers will face Manor in the area round, date and location to be determined.

Paetow made it to the area round last season, but was unable to field a team due to a number of COVID-19 cases at the school. The Panthers have never played in an area round game to this point.

“One of our goals this year is to leave a standard for classes to come,” Dumas said. “I know towards the end of the game, we had a lot of younger guys that were able to get looks and play in an atmosphere like this. It's great that we have the opportunity to leave a legacy as seniors. We want to be that standard for Paetow teams to be better than going forward.”

Tough matchups await in second round

BY TYLER TYRE

Friday

CLASS 6A

Katy (11-0) vs. Stratford (10-1), 7 p.m., Tully Stadium

• Katy continued their dominance this season in the bi-district round and easily went into the area round against Stratford on Friday.

The Tigers though, were not satisfied with their win and feel they need to reach a second gear as the team heads deeper into the playoffs. That will start with getting injured players fully back into the swing of things, as a number of players missed time late in the season and either are getting back to full health or are just starting to practice at full strength again. The Tigers know they need to improve against the pass after giving up 206 yards passing to Fort Bend Clements.

That will be especially important going up against Stratford and starting quarterback Nash Rankin. The junior has thrown for 2589 yards and 25 touchdowns so far this season, averaging over 235 passing per game. Luke Rives has been a huge threat for them in the pass game, as the sophomore is nearing at 935 yards receiving on the year and has nine receiving touchdowns. Diego Denson has provided balance in the run game, with 752 yards and seven touchdowns.

The Stratford offense has not been without its faults though and has been prone to turnovers. Rankin has 10 interceptions so far this season and if Katy can play sound defense and force the team into third and longs, it would not be surprising if the Tigers came away with multiple takeaways as they did against Clements.

Tompkins (10-1) vs. Jersey Village (11-0), 7 p.m., Pridgeon Stadium

• Tompkins will face its toughest test of the season since it faced Katy when the Falcons play Jersey Village on Friday.

The Falcons come off a huge win against Fort Bend Travis in which Wyatt Young, a sophomore, rushed for 97 yards and a touchdown and caught 5 passes for 57 yards as well. Young wasn't alone in having a strong day. Senior quarterback Cole Francis threw for 179 yards and Caleb Blocker rushed for 86 while the defense had four interceptions and both Sean DuBose and Eduwa Okundaye came away with sacks.

Things will get significantly tougher for the Falcons against an undefeated Jersey Village squad that has dominated so far this season.

Jersey Village has been successful in both the run and pass game. Sophomore quarterback Adam Tran has passed for 1590 yards and 13 touchdowns this year and running back Rashon Estes has rushed for 1070 yards and 17 touchdowns so far. Jersey Village does rely on Estes a lot in the run game, as no other player averages 50 yards rushing per game for them, but they spread the wealth in the pass game. Quinci Jones has 571 yards on the season with two touchdowns while Arbrie Carter has 452 yards and five touchdowns. Isaac Podraza, Brandon Phan and Estes all also have over 200 yards receiving on the year. The Jersey Village defense has also been a force this year and has given up on average 16 points per game this season.

The Falcons will need to find a way to force turnovers again and will hope to have a strong balanced day on offense as they look to advance.

CLASS 5A, DIVISION I

Paetow (10-1) vs. Manor (9-2), 7 p.m., Cougar Field (College Station)

• Paetow has been dominant the past two weeks after suffering its first loss of the season to Manvel and that continued in the bi-district round.

The Panthers finally have their one-two punch at running back that they have wanted all season with Damyron Phillips and Jacob Brown and it showed as the two combined to rush for 227 yards and five touchdowns in the teams win over Galveston Ball.

Paetow's defense was a huge difference maker as it has been all season for the Panthers. Ball mustered just 90 total yards and turned the ball over four times.

Paetow will need to be on top of their game in the area round as they get a two-loss Manor team that has boasted a strong offense all season.

The team's run game has been its strength all year and they have leaned heavily on four star running back Quinten Joyner. The junior has rushed for 2380 yards and 30 touchdowns so far this year, averaging 216 yards per game and a crazy 11.7 yards per carry. The pass game hasn't been as strong but has still been steady for Manor. Sophomore quarterback Jayson Zardavets has passed for 1248 yards and 12 touchdowns and is averaging 113 yards per game through the air. But Zardavets has been prone to turnovers, throwing nine interceptions so far this year.

Paetow will need to have another dominant day on defense while having a strong game running the ball and throwing efficiently.

Saturday

CLASS 6A

Cinco Ranch (7-4) vs. Memorial (7-4), 1 p.m., Tully Stadium

• Cinco Ranch won its first playoff game since 2016 last week and has another winnable game in the area round against Memorial.

Running back Eric Eckstrom had a huge game for the Cougars, as in his first start the junior rushed for 107 yards and three touchdowns. Gavin Rutherford continued his terrific junior campaign and now has 2395 yards passing and 25 touchdowns this season, averaging 217 yards per game through the air. Sam McKnight missed the game with an injury and Cinco Ranch will hope to get their starting running back healthy as soon as possible.

Memorial will pose a tough test for the Cougars, as the Mustangs are built a lot like the Seven Lakes squad that Cinco lost to two weeks ago. The Mustangs are a defensive-first team — they have only given up 20 points on four occasions this season and give up on average 15 points per game. But as strong as Memorial is defensively, they are not the most potent offense, they have scored ten points or less four times this season and were shut out by Cy-Fair earlier this year. The team is built to go through the run game and Carson Zahn is the bell cow for the Mustangs. Zahn has rushed for 893 yards and seven touchdowns for Memorial this year to lead the team while Ethan Spears also gets a lot of carries and has 522 yards and 12 touchdowns. Junior quarterback Chase Goodwin has thrown for 1154 yards and 11 touchdowns this season and his biggest weapon is Kyle Siblek, who has 541 yards and six touchdowns this year, Zahn is second on the team with 255 yards on 14 receptions.

The Cougars will need Rutherford to lead the offense past a strong Memorial defense and will hope for another strong defensive performance like they had in the bi-district round.

Kennedy Pike hits the ball past Ridge Point blockers during Katy's Class 6A Region III Final match against Ridge Point on Saturday at Sam Houston State University.

Tigers fall to Ridge Point in regional final

BY TYLER TYRE
SPORTS EDITOR

HUNTSVILLE — The last two classes of Katy seniors have laid the foundation for a program to be successful for years to come.

The Tigers had not been to a regional tournament since 1993 going into last year, but now have been to two regional finals in a row.

"Many of the seniors this year have been with me for several year," said Katy head coach Karen Paxton. "Since day one they bought into what it takes to represent tradition and culture in this program. Every single day they tried to live by that. It showed in how the senior leadership carried over from last year to this year. It's the reason we got back to back in the regional final."

The Tigers season came to an end on Saturday in the Class 6A Region III Final in a four set loss to Ridge Point 20-25, 22-25, 25-23, 18-25 at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville.

Katy had battled its way back to the regional final, but the Tigers couldn't stop a Ridge Point team that will be making its third trip to the state tournament in four years.

"In the past we weren't really able to get past the third round," said Maddie Waak, a senior. "It felt good to get back here and do it two years in a row, it shows it wasn't a fluke last year and shows that we really did make an impact."

Katy battled in the first set and tied it at 15, but Ridge Point pulled away to gain the advantage. Katy came out fast in the second set and held a 7-4 lead, but again Ridge Point came back. Katy got within one point halfway through the set and two points late, but Ridge Point called timeouts both times and stopped the Tigers momentum before closing out the set.

Katy rebounded in the third set, shrugging off Ridge Point making a hot start and taking a lead that the Tigers wouldn't relinquish the entire set.

"We had a lot of new faces and holes to fill this year," Paxton said. "Obviously, there was a lot of expectations and pressure to get back here, but I don't think anyone believed in themselves and that they could get here than this group. Especially this season."

The Tigers ran out of gas in the fourth set and even though the team toughed out a number of points, Ridge Point was able to secure the win.

Paxton was proud of the Tigers' efforts and what they were able to accomplish this season, and Waak was happy that this senior class could help lay the foundation for the future of the program.

"It was really special," Waak said. "It's my senior year and it sucks that this is my last high school match but we put in the work and it's a great foundation for next year's team as well."

The Tigers will take their time to celebrate their accomplishments this season, but Paxton and the underclassman will get back to work very quickly.

"We're going to maintain and build the confidence with those younger players," Paxton said. "It's all about showing them how big of a part of this they were and showing we believe in them."

Cinco Ranch took advantage of the field position with a methodical drive and Eckstrom ran in a 4-yard touchdown to increase the lead.

With the ground attack rolling, Cinco Ranch opened up the passing game in the second quarter and quickly marched down the field.

Michalec found the ball in his hands as he slipped past the coverage and junior quarterback Gavin Rutherford threw to him for a wide open 15-yard touchdown.

Bush found some success passing as they looked to close the lead heading into the half, but an interception by senior defensive back Odera Nsobundu in the endzone killed the drive and any momentum the Broncos could build.

The interception capped off a stellar half of defense by the Cougars as they allowed just 35 yards of offense in the first quarter and 42 yards in the second quarter.

The Cougars received the ball to start the second half and Eckstrom made his mark in the air instead of the ground.

Rutherford and Eckstrom linked up with 24 and 21-yard passes before junior receiver Seth Salverino caught a fade pass for an 18-yard touchdown.

Things went from bad to worse for the Broncos as they fumbled the ball on the first play of the next drive and senior defensive tackle Rhett Rodabaugh recovered and returned it to the five-yard line.

Eckstrom put the game away with a 5-yard touchdown run on the next play to make it three on the day.

“(Eckstrom) is a tough, hard-nose kid. He’s not the biggest kid, but he’s not afraid to lower his shoulder and gain the extra yard,” Dudley said.

It was Eckstrom’s first start at running back after playing as the backup for most of the season.

Eckstrom said. “I was definitely a little nervous at the beginning of the game. After that first play, I got the jitters out and it was time to go to work.”

Eckstrom finished the game with 95 yards rushing and three touchdowns to go along with three catches for 74 yards.

Junior kicker Santiago Tabora managed a 39-yard field goal in the fourth quarter, but for the most part, Cinco Ranch ran the ball for the rest of the game and wound down the clock.

Cinco Ranch will face the winner of Saturday’s matchup between Houston Memorial and Houston Heights in the Area round.
