Advocates promote student inclusion on Katy ISD book review committee

BY GEORGE SLAUGHTER
NEWS EDITOR

As Katy school trustees consider how, or whether, to change district policy for reviewing and possibly removing books from school libraries, advocates are calling for including students on the review committee. They are also calling for keeping a book under challenge available to students during the review process.

Jennifer Edozie, Henry Ebben and Logan McLean are seniors at Cinco Ranch High School. Anne Russey is a parent and counselor. They spoke in an interview Monday at the Cinco Ranch Public Library.

Presently, McLean said, the policy provides for including students on the review committee. But trustees are expected to review the policy at their Sept. 26 meeting amidst ongoing debate about books being pulled from school library shelves, and the policy guiding those actions. The policy is on the district website at katyisd.org/Page/4310. More information is at the abbreviated URL bit.ly/3AVzNvi.

McLean said trustees Rebecca Fox and Victor Perez have expressed opposition to the idea. Trustee Dawn Champagne also expressed opposition at the last trustees' meeting.

Edozie said having students on the committee gives students the chance to ensure that student perspectives are being taken into account. She said she and others wanted to ensure that students selected for the committee are at least 18 years of age and have a mature perspective.

"To be fair, there are students and high schoolers who really don't have that adult and mature perspective," Edozie said. "So, at least trying to attain students who can give their point of view to these things and can offer their opinions would be fair. Also, there is just a generational gap which, to be fair, just adults and parents can't fulfill and can't really enter into the mind of young students, just like I can't enter into the mind of a grown adult. So, if you're going to be making policies about the students themselves, at least they get the right to represent themselves through someone else being elected to represent them."

Ebben said there are ways that district officials could find such students.

"They could ask for students to nominate someone to represent them," Ebben said. "I think there are issues to that and I don't think that's the best idea, but I do think the idea of having the adults find someone that they feel is mature enough to make these decisions, that's probably best."

Russey said she has reviewed book review policies for other districts.

"Our district is unique in that we have not historically had secondary-level students serve on book review committees," Russey said. "So, we don't have to re-create the wheel. There are best practices already at comparable school districts throughout the state of

Donation pays for courts at Katy City Park

BY GEORGE SLAUGHTER
NEWS EDITOR

Katy tennis enthusiasts can now enjoy playing their sport on improved tennis courts at Katy City Park. The improvements happened thanks to an $8,000 donation from Aileen Rios and her company, Harvest Midstream of Houston.

Kevin Browne, the city's parks director, said Rios reached out to the city about making a donation. She mentioned renovating the tennis courts at the park, 5720 Franz Road. The city was already planning to make those renovations, Browne said. The city took Rios, who is a GIS (for geographical information system) technician, and her company, a privately-held midstream company services provider, up on the gift.

"It was good timing, a good opportunity," Browne said.

Council Member-at-Large and Mayor Pro Tem Chris Harris said when Rios made the donation, she invited him and Ward B Council Member Rory Robertson to play a match against her and her husband, Arturo. It would be one of the first matches—if not the first—on the renovated court.

Harris and Robertson were up to the challenge. But they also warned her that they weren't that good at tennis.

"She kind of introduced us to the sport," Harris said. "We've had kids that have played before. We knew a little bit, but not enough to play her. It was a lot of fun."

Robertson, a former Katy Tigers football player, described the experience as a blast.

"We were destroyed score-wise, but we got a lot of lessons on how to play," Robertson said. "I'd like to thank them for

Harris County Sheriff's Office unveils SafeCam database

BY GEORGE SLAUGHTER
NEWS EDITOR

The Harris County Sheriff's Office has been working with a database that enables deputies to save time when investigating cases.

SafeCam is a free camera registration database that the public can use to register their outdoor security cameras. If a crime happens in a given neighborhood, deputies access the database, enter the crime address, and learn what cameras are in the area. The database also tells how a camera owner wants to be contacted, such as by a phone call or text message. Armed with this knowledge, deputies approach the camera owner and ask for permission to see the requested videos.

Nick Hoschar of the Harris County Sheriff's Office said reviewing these videos can help investigators save time when pursuing an investigation. Yet he said the camera owner has no obligation to share such videos.

"They can say no," Hoschar said.

The technology is new to the Harris County Sheriff's office, which has been using it for about a month. However, he said, several agencies across the country have used this technology.

"We're in the process of trying to bring in more agencies," he said, adding that

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test.

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

their patience and kindness for teaching us to play tennis. Both Chris and I were sore for several days afterward. We really enjoyed the day. Maybe I'll play them again a lot later if I get in better shape."

Robertson and Harris expressed thanks to Rios and Harvest Midstream for the gift.

Browne said while he played tennis in high school, he hasn't played the game in some time.

"I'll have to go out there and check it out," Browne said.

Browne said the city has made other improvements around the tennis courts, including renovating the wooden benches, which were rotting underneath.

The city is also developing a fitness court on the north side of the park near the basketball court and Play Station Playground. The court will have areas for performing a variety of exercises. The city accepted a $50,000 National Fitness Campaign 2022 grant from Blue Cross Blue Shield of Texas for the creation of the fitness court.

The court needed additional money for installation of the concrete

Robertson, who is a teacher, said he has students who go to the park to play after school. Having an improved set of tennis courts helps.

"There's more participation in tennis because we have the best facilities now," Robertson said. "I see that every day. I really think Katy City Park is going to be one of the top facilities in the area."

Browne said the department is preparing to receive design and construction documentation for a parks and maintenance, authorized as part of a bond package approved by Katy city voters.

"I've seen some initial documents," Browne said. "We're just waiting for the full package."

Harris said Browne has done a good job serving the community. "I see more people out in our parks, more than I even used to imagine," Harris said. "I think they're doing a great job, and I can't wait to see what's going on in future with the parks master plan."

Robertson said he hoped the improved courts will encourage others to take up tennis.

"It's a really great gift," Robertson said. "Parks are a reason why a lot of families move to Katy. It's one of our highlights."

Marvin Mendez-Wright leads the local franchise. On Monday, workers from both her group and Fussell Senior Center loaded up a truck with non-perishable goods for Camp Hope. Suzanne's Band, led by Mia Suzanne Walker, provided the music.

"We're just getting started here in Katy," Mendez-Wright said. "We are hiring people."

Seniors Helping Seniors is headquartered in Pennsylvania. It provides in-home services and includes hundreds of locations across the United States and internationally, according to its website, shskaty.org. Their caregivers are seniors themselves.

Among its services, Mendez-Wright said, is companionship care.

"We remind you take your medications, because we are not a medical group," Mendez-Wright said. "We can help with grooming and dementia care. If they need to go out of town for the weekend (thus leaving a senior unattended), we can provide overnight care. We specialize in personal care and assistance for daily living. We supply as little or as much care as they need."

While donations were due Aug. 25 for Monday's shipment from the Fussell Senior Center, Mendez-Wright said Camp Hope is still accepting donations.

Needed items include bottled water, paper towels and toilet paper, twin sheets, alarm clocks, clear tape, postage stamps, fish oil and glucosamine.

"We are looking for things that people can store and that will not perish quickly," Mendez-Wright said.

Those interested in making donations are invited to do so in one of two ways. They can shop on Amazon and make their donations through Amazon's Smile program. Or, they are welcome to bring their donations to the Houston-area Camp Hope headquarters, 9724 Darrington Rd., in Houston.

BOOKS

Texas. As far as the logistics go, the librarians and the staff members involved are the most qualified to consult with peers, consult with TASB (Texas Association of School Boards), consult with whomever to help us get a process into place."

The district keeps a list of books it has removed from shelves on its website, the URL for which is katyisd.org/Page/4311. Presently, district officials have deemed 10 books for removal, all due to "pervasive vulgarity." The latest book to be pulled, in February, is A Court of Mist and Fury, by Sarah J. Maas.

Ebben said most of the books that have been pulled or challenged are about minorities or those who are LGBTQ.

"We read 1984 (by George Orwell) and there's straight sex in that book, but they take out All Boys Aren't Blue (by George M. Johnson) because it's gay sex or gay influences in it," Ebben said.

Russey said despite claims to the contrary, the books being challenged involve LGBTQ issues and people.

"They're trying to pull the wool over all our eyes by just gaslighting that we didn't all just watch them fight New Kid and Class Act a few months ago," Russey said. "They came after those books because they had CRT (critical race theory), which I guess they think is vulgar in some way, too."

Russey expressed concerns about the policy as now written, as parents outnumber educators and administrators.

"And as a parent, I think that's a bad idea because I'm not as qualified as a librarian who has a master's degree and studies book challenges and censorship extensively as part of their master's degree," Russey said. "I don't want a bunch of these book burning, censoring parents making decisions for my kid, and that's the way it feels like it's being set up right now. I have concerns for our students who are so brave and willing to volunteer their time to do this. But I don't want them to get run over by these parents."

Ebben said it was important to know what books were challenged and why.

"Whenever people in power don't want you to read something there's a reason, and I think searching out those books when you know that they're going to be taken away is really important," Ebben said. "Because otherwise, you won't have access to that later."

Edozie agreed.

"I didn't read all the books that were being taken off the shelves or were banned, necessarily, but I did digging and research into a good majority of them just to understand whether it was a thing of there's something highly disturbing and crazy about these books, or whether it was something about them taking away our rights for reading this book for their own biased reasoning," Edozie said.

Russey expressed a concern that trustees might want to countermand a review committee decision on a given book. She said if trustees chose to go that route, they would be undermining the committee they created.

When it comes to boys, schools are flunking

I trekked to St. Germaine School every morning in my sturdy Buster Brown shoes.

Designed for rough-and-tumble boys, these heavy-duty shoes could take a scuffing and, with a good polishing, keep on shining—pretty much the way rambunctious kids like me were able to do in our elementary school years.

The good sisters who ran St. Germaine in the 1970s weren't especially sensitive to boys like me who spent more time fidgeting and looking out the window daydreaming than following their lessons.

In those days, most restless, indifferent boys like me somehow made it through school without dropping out, but today study after study shows that increasing numbers of boys are doing just that.

In USA Today Christopher Brueningsen, head of the Kiski School, explores why boys are failing to graduate from high school on time at higher rates than girls (82% vs. 88%).

He notes that whereas 60% of girls go on to college today, only 40% of boys do, according to statistics from the National Student Clearinghouse.

"College enrollment in the United States has declined by 1.5 million students over the past five years, with men accounting for 71% of that drop," he writes.

According to Yahoo News, the covid pandemic made things even worse for boys.

School closings set back the educational achievements of Chicago's black and Latino boys significantly—as measured by grading and attendance—whereas girls held their own.

So why are boys doing so much worse in school than girls?

Brueningsen points to the lack of male role models in schools. As of 2018, only 24% of all K-12 teachers were men, according to the National Center for Education Statistics.

He says data from a major 2015 study shows that the typical school environment may be "more attuned to feminine-typed personalities, making it generally easier for girls to achieve better grades in school."

He cites a 2016 report from the American Sociological Association that found that boys are punished for their rough-and-tumble tendencies and the punishment makes for a negative learning experience.

TOM PURCELL
SPECIAL TO THE KATY TIMES

Boys are much more likely to hear common teacher criticisms, as I did, that include: "Stop fidgeting! Pay attention! Put that down! Clean that off! Your desk is a mess, Tommy!"

Sister Mary "Brass Knuckles" whacked my knuckles with a metal ruler many times, but I was eventually able to overcome this negative experience and become a professional writer (which would shock her if she weren't in Heaven).

We need every boy and girl in school today to overcome their challenges.

Our modern economy needs every single school in America to produce well-rounded students who can go on to trade schools or college or can be trained directly by companies in desperate need of skilled workers.

Yet some 1.2 million kids drop out of high school every year, reports DoSomething.org—and most of those drop-outs are boys.

This is a real crisis our country faces today that requires real changes in classrooms across America, but it is not new.

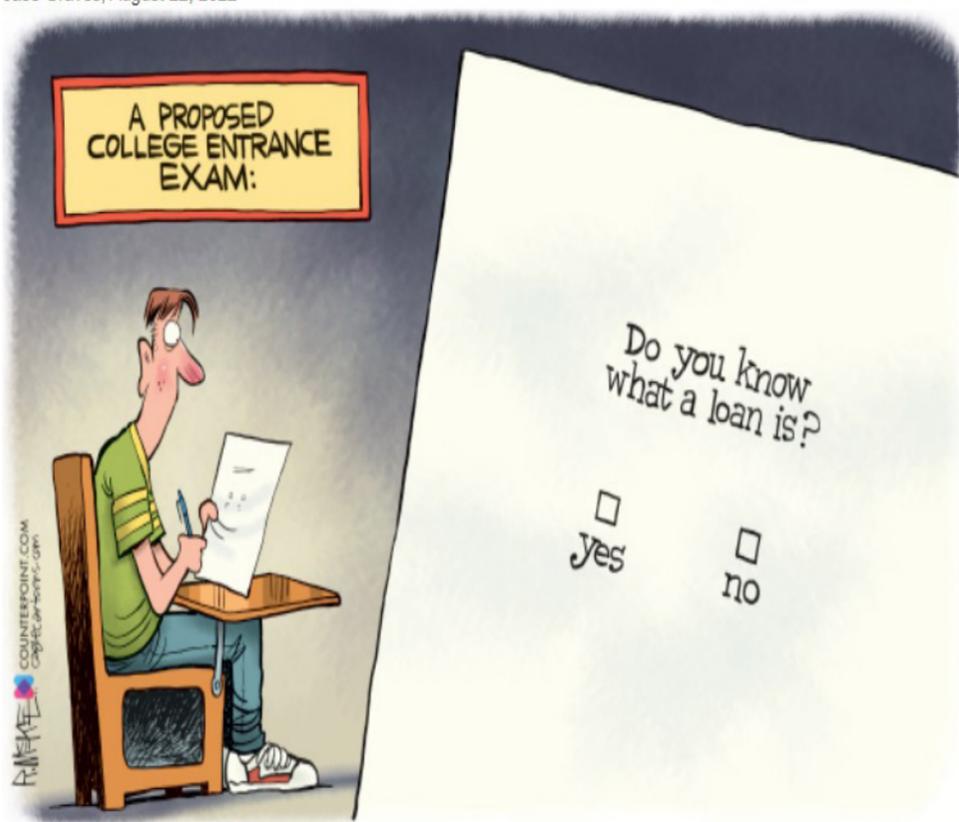

Author and Education Reformer Richard Whitmire has been writing for more than a decade that key forces in our entrenched educational system—including teachers unions and school administrators—have little interest or incentive in addressing the problem with boys.

He says that the problem has long been well known, yet still little changes.

What is needed are some swift kicks to the shins—by a couple of Buster Brown shoes—of the people holding change back.

Anyone know where I can find a pair in size 11½?

And then there was one teenage daughter left at home

In recent days, the hormonal distribution in my household has become slightly more balanced as two of my three teenage daughters and several lines of credit are now off attending college. This means that when I'm at home, I only receive the contemptuous side-eye from my wife, my youngest daughter, two female dogs and a female cat anytime I produce even the most innocent of bodily noises.

Yes, my happy-go-lucky middle daughter has left the nest—with a trail of glitter, jewelry beads and other expensive craft supplies in her wake. Things around here will be a lot quieter without her, and probably a heck of a lot less fun.

I've often said that my middle daughter is the marshmallow center of the sibling Moon Pie, and we'll definitely miss her infectious silliness, which has occasionally involved wearing a pair of underwear or one of our pets as a hat.

Now that she's gone to college, I'll be missing the daughter I can't sit beside (or even look at) during church services, weddings, nice dinners or any other polite company without risking an eruption of giggle snorts or beverages spewing out of our nostrils.

This is the daughter who once aspired to be a professional shopper, and when we asked for whom she planned to shop, she exclaimed that she would be shopping for herself—of course. Over the years, she has become an expert in this line of work.

This is also the daughter whose insides, by now, have probably mutated into a viscous mass of Reese's Peanut Butter Cups. In fact, whenever we ran out of the candy, she could be found at any given hour of the day or night lurking in our kitchen pantry—committing culinary atrocities against a large jar of creamy Jif and a jumbo bag of Nestle Tollhouse Milk Chocolate Morsels.

This is the daughter who, over the years, has attempted to transform our home into an unlicensed exotic petting zoo. Incidentally, by housing numerous hedgehogs, fancy mice, hermit crabs, hamsters, dogs and cats, I've developed well-honed skills in the field of droppings-management. (If I could only find some way to turn it into a side gig.)

When she wasn't trying to convince me to blow a couple of C-notes on another pet whose poop I would get to scoop, this is the daughter who had a habit of going to the ophthalmologist to have a variety of foreign objects plucked out of her eyeballs. I don't think she ever got a hedgehog lodged in there, but I'm sure she considered it.

And speaking of pet droppings, since puberty hit and ruined everything, this is the daughter who has taken every possible opportunity to invite various hairy-legged species of teenage boys (usually in desperate need of a haircut) for awkward meetings with me so that I could evaluate them and offer to show them my collection of Bibles and body bags. Fortunately, when she left for college, she managed to avoid packing a take-along boyfriend in her laundry hamper—I think.

I desperately love all three of my daughters. They are all delightfully different, and I've learned to annoy each of them according to their own unique personalities.

With my eldest and most expensive daughter entering her sophomore year of spending my life savings, and my middle daughter spreading her sunshine as a college freshman, my youngest teenage daughter will now be our honorary "only child." And although she tends to be stoic and quiet, she does have a silly streak, so we'll do our best to commemorate her middle sister from time to time by spewing beverages out of our nostrils and wearing our underwear as a hat.

TRIBUTE

Karen Ranae Yates Lagrasta was born to her loving parents Mildred Benson and James Dewey Yates in Herford, Texas on December 23, 1959. Her sister Diana Yates Hale welcomed her home. James was employed by the Federal Land Bank and Southwestern Life Insurance Company where they lived in several cities before settling in Houston in 1965. Karen grew up attending Shadow Oaks Elementary and Spring Oaks Junior High before graduating from Spring Woods High School in 1978. She was active during high school venturing into class politics and other leadership positions culminating into being elected Student Body President as a Senior. After graduation from Spring Woods (Go Tigers!), Karen attended Texas A&M University starting in the Fall Semester of 1978 (Whoop!). In the Spring Semester of 1979, she met Steve LaGrasta (We can talk Big "G" and Little "g" sometime later). After his graduation in 1979, they were married in Houston on December 15, 1979 with her father, James, officiating the ceremony.

Steve was employed by Prudential in San Antonio and Karen joined him at their first apartment on Bitters Road. She secured a job at Commercial Credit as an administrative assistant. Moving upward she was next employed by Philip Barshop as his personal assistant. His involvement with commercial real estate prompted her to earn the designation as a Certified Property Manager (CPM) along with a Texas Real Estate Broker License. She held these esteemed and coveted titles for over 35 years. In May 1987, Karen and Steve were blessed with their first son Stephen Michael Lagrasta II (Mikey). Three months after his birth the family relocated to Katy and joined her father's real estate appraisal firm. In October 1989, Karen and Steve were blessed with their second son James Daniel Lagrasta (Jamie). Karen juggled between being a Mom and a real estate broker, but it was always Mom first. Her sons grew up in the Cinco Ranch area of Katy, both graduating from Cinco Ranch High School. After high school they attended and graduated from Texas A&M University in 2010 and 2012. Mikey and Jamie completed her happiness by both joining the firm of YATES-LAGRASTA of which she now was the sole owner. They would represent the third generation in the family business.

Through the years in Katy, Karen had a passion for cooking and entertaining. Friends and family would look forward to her annual Halloween Party followed by numerous graduation and holiday gatherings. She hosted baby showers, wedding showers, birthdays and anniversaries. Karen also filled her time with daily walking, gardening, scrapbooking, and family ancestry. In June 2022, Karen was diagnosed with Chiari Malformation. This malady caused several issues with the main one being a lack of swallowing. Neurosurgery was performed in July 2022 and after 59 days of fighting in three different hospitals, Karen ran out of time against this formidable foe and passed from this earth into God's Hands on August 21, 2022 at age 62. Karen was a sixth generation Texan being a member of both The Daughters of the Republic of Texas (DRT) and The Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR). Karen and Steve were members of the Fry Road Church of Christ and the Cy-Fair Church of Christ during their time in Katy. She was instrumental in bringing many to Christ, including her husband and sons, through her Bible class teaching, personal demeanor, and willingness to serve others. She taught bible class beginning as a teenager and it continued throughout her life.

Her devotion to her family was unsurpassed. She doted over her sons, husband, and mother always trying to smooth their way in life. Karen loved being in Menard. This was Mildred's hometown and she often spoke of her summers with her cousins learning to drive, fish, and cook. She was witty and sarcastic with a favorite saying being "It's about time!" when a person accomplished a goal, knowing how proud she really was of them. She was gracious, loving, generous, and tough. Karen was a faithful Christian, a devoted wife, a wonderful mother, along with being an example and friend to many.

Karen is survived by her husband of 42 years Steve, her sons Michael and James, her mother Mildred, and her sister Dee. She is also survived by her nephews Douglas James, Derrick Yates, and Dalton Thomas Hale, Nick and Mitch Lagrasta and their parents Marne and Fred Lagrasta. A joy in her life were her great nieces Madeline, Savannah, and Riley James Hale along with her numerous cousins and extended family. She was preceded in death by her father James, infant sister Evalon Kathryn, grandparents Roy and Margaret Benson, grandparents Bill and Mattie Kay Yates Crosswhite, brother-in-law Douglas K. Hale, and mother and father-in-law

Barbara and Dan LaGrasta.

Arc of Katy announces founders award honoree

CONTRIBUTED REPORT

The Arc of Katy board of directors said it will honor Marie Tsakiris with its 2022 Ann Davis Founders Award and Judy Colabella and Walt Palen as The Arc of Katy 2022 Volunteers of the Year.

The awardees will be recognized at The Arc of Katy 2022 Achieve with Us Gala Sept. 23 at Beckendorff Farms in Katy. The annual benefit with dinner and entertainment will raise funds for day programs for teens and adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities and their families residing in the tri-county Katy area.

Commenting on the honorees, The Arc of Katy President Cherie Duddridge said, "We are pleased to honor Marie Tsakiris along with Judy Colabella and Walt Palen as they have helped to make a reality The Arc of Katy's vision of establishing a permanent facility. Their contributions and sweat equity are helping us to sustainably deliver high quality, affordable programs that provide learning, skills development, social enrichment, recreation and community service opportunities for teens and adults with IDD in Fort Bend, Harris, and Waller counties."

Tsakiris, a registered nurse, community volunteer and property manager, made possible the donation of The Arc of Katy's new facility, Duddridge said.

"We are pleased to present Marie with the Ann Davis Founder's Award for her generous contribution to our organization, and for her ongoing work to provide opportunities for people with special needs to be engaged and active members of our community," Duddridge said.

A Michigan native, Tsakiris relocated to Texas in 2004 and lives in Katy with her husband Louis and son Alec. She began working with youth with medical and special needs and their families as a volunteer for Friday Night Friends at St. Peter's United Methodist Church. When the H2O program for teens and adults with special needs began with St. Peter's UMC as its meeting place, Tsakiris began working as its registered nurse. She now serves as the registered nurse for the church's recently established Special Needs Ministry.

Tsakiris said through her work at the church she learned about other programs available to youth and adults with special needs in the Katy area, including The Arc of Katy. After hearing that The Arc of Katy had lost use of its original program location following Hurricane Harvey, Tsakiris and her family decided to support the organization in securing a permanent home.

Tsakiris and her family through efforts of the San Jacinto College Board of Trustees Chairperson Marie Flickinger also are donors to that college's Neurodiversity Program.

"My family and I are very pleased to help The Arc of Katy and are proud to see how happy the participants and staff are in their new building," Tsakiris said.

Said Duddridge: "As a nonprofit organization, we greatly appreciate the generosity of Marie and her family as the facility they built and donated to us will help us sustainably deliver high quality, accessible and affordable opportunities for more people with intellectual and developmental disabilities."

Colabella, a semi-retired healthcare professional, and Palen, who recently retired after 47 years with the energy industry, have been engaged with The Arc of Katy since 2009 when their now-31-year-old son Ben enrolled as a summer participant while attending the program for students with special needs at Taylor High School.

Palen has carried out several different volunteer roles with The Arc of Katy, most recently taking the lead in planning, design and set up of the organization's new program facility located at 934 Jordan Ranch Blvd. in Brookshire. In recent months he often has been seen working with other volunteers to install equipment and furnishings and build a new storage and work shed and garden area there.

Meanwhile, Colabella has been supporting The Arc of Katy's online program started in 2020 to keep participants engaged who were unable to join in person because of COVID-19 health precautions and has helped to establish the day program's new butterfly raising project. She also has volunteered in The Arc's Be Strong aquatics program.

In addition, Colabella and Palen support The Arc of Katy's monthly social programs including leading movie nights for teens and adults with IDD and have helped deliver the day program's recent woodcraft projects and pup craft sales.

Colabella and Palen have volunteered in the Katy area since moving here almost 25 years ago with Ben and his older brother Jeffrey. In addition to The Arc of Katy, they supported the Taylor High School performing arts programs, the Katy Wolf Pack Special Olympics team, H2O at St. Peter's UMC and YMCA Camp Cinco.

Palen said he is pleased to volunteer because, "If it were not for programs like this, people like Judy and I would not have been able to work and carry on our careers. The Arc of Katy provides fun, safe and healthy day programs and social events that are important to our children and to our families."

Noting that their family settled and stayed in Katy because of the excellent school system, Colabella said, "Now, we stay in Katy, because of The Arc of Katy. The participants are all Ben's buddies. Our involvement keeps us young and engaged. Volunteering with The Arc of Katy is fun for us and is good for Ben and the other participants. The Arc of Katy has become our community and family."

Katy school-based law enforcement member graduates from master training

CONTRIBUTED REPORT

Donald Meisenheimer, a former Katy ISD police officer and current substitute teacher, was among the graduates of the inaugural Texas Commission on Law Enforcement (TCOLE) #41505 School-Based Law Enforcement Master Training Class.

The graduation was Aug. 12 in San Antonio. Meisenheimer is also a reserve deputy for the San Jacinto County Sheriff's Office in addition to his Katy-area activities.

The Master Training is the capstone of the TxSSC's school-based law enforcement training series. TCOLE accredits the 32-hour training. Participants must complete the Introductory, Intermediary, and Advanced training before attending the Master Training. The training prepares participants to be leaders in the field of Texas school-based law enforcement, studying best practices and evidence-based models of policing to improve safety and security for the schools and communities they serve.

Throughout the training series, participants study a wide variety of topics including mental health issues of today's youth, the development of the adolescent brain, suicide prevention, restorative justice, bullying and cyberbullying, gang awareness, social media investigations, and strategic planning.

Joe Munoz, TxSSC School Based Law Enforcement Training Manager said, "We are so excited for this four-part series to come to fruition. Having an individual dedicate approximately 128 hours of their time toward this goal is remarkable. What an honor."

Meisenheimer said with the increased need for school safety, this training is the most comprehensive and complete training program for officers that serve schools.

"The Texas School Safety Center has developed the gold standard for training for increasing the safety of our schools and I am proud to count myself among this group of professionals," Meisenheimer said. The inaugural class included 50 individuals affiliated with school-based law enforcement from around the State of Texas, including five individuals who completed all four courses this summer. Meisenheimer was one of these five individuals.

The TxSSC is an official university-level research center at Texas State University tasked in Chapter 37 of the Texas Education Code with key school safety initiatives and mandates. The TxSSC serves as a clearinghouse for the dissemination of safety and security information through research, training, and technical assistance for K-12 schools and junior colleges throughout the state of Texas. For more information, visit the website training.txssc.edu and resources the TxSSC offers, visit txssc.edu.

New phase of Katy Boardwalk Project construction begins

CONTRIBUTED REPORT

Construction has started on the second phase of Katy Boardwalk District's 2.3-mile outer loop trail, one of the project's four trail experiences, while work nears completion on the first of three roadways into the property with the second starting in September.

The phase-two trail project includes the build out of a 1.15-mile path consisting of paved trails lined with native trees and landscape, wood-type boardwalk paths and a steel pedestrian bridge. Educational signs also will be installed along the trail to help visitors identify native trees, flora and wildlife.

Spanning nine feet in width, the new trail will connect with the first phase of a 2.3-mile loop circling the Boardwalk's 90-acre lake and nature preserve. Completion of the trail is expected by early summer 2023.

Katy Boardwalk District's four trail loops will range from one-half mile to the 2.3-mile loop now in its second phase.

"We expect the trail loops, with their varying distances, to become a popular feature for those in Katy

The Katy Boardwalk Project, still in development, features trail loops for pedestrians.

looking for a lakefront walking or jogging experience as well as residents of the Boardwalk Lofts and guests of the conference center hotel," Byron Hebert, Katy city administrator, said. "The entire Boardwalk will benefit from the trail loops."

As work begins on the completion of Katy Boardwalk District's trail system, crews are readying for the extension of Katy Fort Bend Road from Kingsland Boulevard directly to the project's main entrance and its primary thoroughfare, Boardwalk Drive. The extension includes a bridge over a drainage channel and a new traffic signal at the intersection of Kingsland Boulevard and Katy Fort Bend Road/Boardwalk Drive.

"Direct access from I-10 will be a big selling point for the project," Keith Dalton of KBH Venture, co-developer of Katy Boardwalk District, said.

Work also is nearing completion on the extension of Prairie Parkway from Kingsland Boulevard into the District to Boardwalk Drive. Completion of the Prairie Parkway extension is expected by the end of September.

The 169-acre setting at Kingsland Boulevard and Prairie Parkway, just south of I-10, is a public/private partnership to create a walkable, mixed-use setting including a full-service hotel and conference center, experiential restaurants, Class A office space, luxury loft-style residences and single-family homes.

"Our partnership with the city has led to the development of the trail system and the 90-acre nature preserve that will make Katy Boardwalk District a unique lakefront destination for entertainment, community and culture," Dalton said.

ROYAL ISD CAMPUS CONDITIONS TOUR

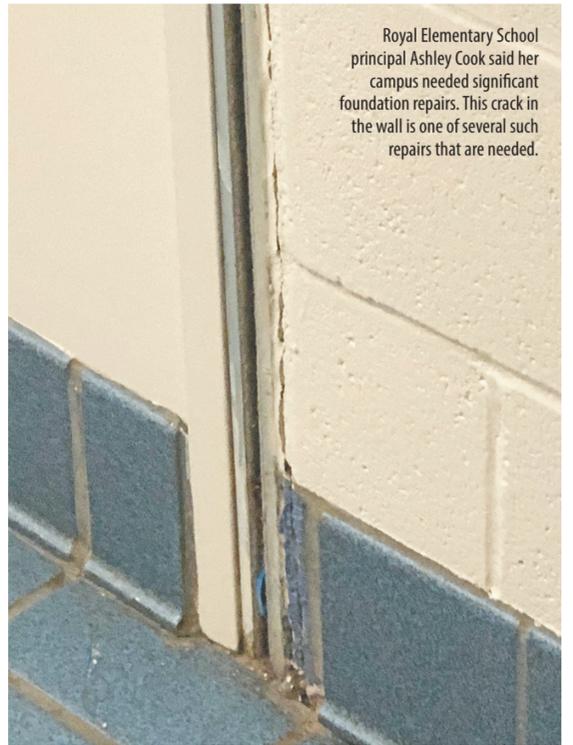

Royal STEM Academy principal Kaetlyn Miksch said her campus needed a fire sprinkler system similar to ones at the other four campuses. The campus does not presently have such a system. She said replacing the doors at the school's rear entrance is also a necessity to control access.

Royal Junior High principal Marcus McLemore said his campus needed infrastructure repairs. He said his school, like all the others in the district, needed security upgrades to control access.

Royal Elementary School principal Ashley Cook said her campus needed significant foundation repairs. This crack in the wall is one of several such repairs that are needed.

Royal ISD bond committee members toured the five district campuses Aug. 25. Campuses included Royal High School, Royal Junior High School, Royal Elementary School, Royal STEM Academy, and Royal Early Childhood Center.

At each stop, the campus principal gave a brief tour, highlighting issues that could be covered on an expected bond election for May 2023. Foremost among the issues were security upgrades to include remodeled school doorways to control access and updating the security alert system to work across all the campuses. Schools are also in need of technology upgrades, and in some cases, foundational work and repairs.

Paetow's dominant defense steps up

Teagle earns first win as head coach

BY TYLER TYRE
SPORTS EDITOR

That vaunted Paetow defense, it's as good as advertised. The Panthers had talked a lot about what their defense could be and the potential on that side of the ball coming into the season. That potential and that work was put into action on Friday, and the Panthers looked dominant on that side of the ball. Behind nine sacks and an incredible performance from the Panthers' front seven, the Panthers came away with a 14-3 victory over Conroe on Friday night, with some of the defense's biggest names also making an impact on the offensive side of the ball.

"This defense is special," said senior linebacker Alex Kilgore. "It comes from everyone, not just one player and everyone steps up. And it works because all of us are unselfish — we let different players make plays and we know every single guy is going to get their shot to do that. We just have a huge amount of talent and we're just going to keep getting better."

Paetow completely shut down any semblance of a run game from Conroe throughout the night, holding the Tigers to -14 yards, and the pass defense was almost

Seven Lakes suffers season opening loss

Spartans fall to Memorial 17-13

BY TYLER TYRE
SPORTS EDITOR

Seven Lakes learned a tough lesson on Thursday night. The Spartans learned that any number of small mistakes can pile up and lead to a loss, no matter how well you play outside of those mistakes.

With a team full of players who haven't started much on the varsity level, it was an important lesson to learn, but that's exactly what it is. A lesson they all can learn from.

The Spartans suffered a season opening 17-13 loss to Memorial as they faced off at Tully Stadium, in a game that wasn't decided until the final minutes and went back and forth all night.

"We just have to learn, we have to learn from everything that happened tonight," said senior defensive back Bryce Turner. "There's lots of things we can take from this — we know we have to get better with our conditioning, we know we have to prepare more and we have to take our opponent seriously. We can't let our foot off the gas even for one play at any point."

It was only a few plays that made the difference in the game, but that's the growing pains

Jordan blows out Aldine Davis in season opener

BY TYLER TYRE
SPORTS EDITOR

Jordan wanted to come out and make a statement in its season opener.

The Warriors are making the jump from being unclassified all the way to Class 6A, and they have their first real varsity schedule ever — they wanted to prove a point to the rest of Katy and the rest of the area that they aren't someone teams can just roll over this season.

Well, it's fair to say that point was made on Saturday night.

Jordan came out and scored 49 first half points en route to a 64-14 shellacking of Al-dine Davis in the Warriors season opener at Rhodes Stadium. The Warriors came out and dominated on both sides of the ball from the start of the game, and showed exactly what they were out to prove to start the season.

"That was out goal this week," said sophomore wide receiver Andrew Marsh. "We wanted to come out here and show people what we can do and prove to everyone that we can play. We want everyone to know that we're coming and we aren't scared of anybody."

Marsh was part of a huge offensive performance for Jordan, but the biggest day came from Zechariah Sample, who made a huge statement on both sides of the ball, with huge plays and touchdowns both on offense and defense.

Sample totaled four touchdowns on the night, three on offense and one on defense, while also making two interceptions and playing lockdown corner.

And it was Sample who started off the scoring two minutes into the game, taking a jet sweep and scampering in for a 3-yard score.

Then on a botched play where Aldine Davis' quarterback Josh Williams had a ball snapped over his head into the endzone, Williams tried to sling the ball out of the endzone and it went right to Sample, who walked in for his second score of the game.

KATY ISD WEEK TWO PREVIEWS

Intriguing matchups in last week of non-district play

BY TYLER TYRE
SPORTS EDITOR

All games non-district*

THURSDAY

Cinco Ranch (1-0) at Klein Oak (1-0),
7 p.m. at Klein Memorial Stadium

Last Year: Did not play

• Cinco Ranch continues non-district Thursday by taking on a fellow 1-0 team in Klein Oak.

It will be the second straight road game for the Cougars as they prepare for District 19-6A play next week and it will come against a good opponent.

Cinco comes off a dominating win over College Park as the Cougars' offense steam-rolled its way to 41 points while allowing just 13 in a dismantling of College Park.

Gavin Rutherford got his senior year off to a huge start, throwing for 391 yards and five touchdowns, while Noah Abboud was open all night, catching 12 passes for 213 yards and three touchdowns while Seth Salverino caught four passes for 95 yards and a score. And the Cinco run game was efficient, averaging over five yards per carry and rushing for 127 yards. Cinco's defense was all over the field in the win as well, forcing one turnover and keeping College Park from getting anything going in either the pass or run game.

Klein Oak comes off a 32-25 win over Dekaney in the team's season opener and the team's offense will be a good challenge for the Cinco defense. Quarterback P.J. Hatter is a weapon to both run and pass the ball, while Kaleb Black can blow the lid off of defensive backs and make deep plays. But Cinco should be able to take advantage of a defense with question marks and it could be another huge day for Rutherford and Co.

7 p.m. at Traylor Stadium

Last year: George Ranch 48, Taylor 13

• Taylor will finish its non-district schedule with a game against George Ranch as both teams go into Thursday in search of their first win.

Taylor comes off a 38-17 loss to Cy-Woods in which the Mustangs took a lead in the first quarter but were unable to keep up with the Cy-Woods offense down the stretch.

It was a struggle for the Taylor defense, as Cy-Woods threw for 162 yards and rushed for 173 yards, but in a bright spot the Mustangs forced two turnovers on the day.

Offensively, Taylor allowed three sacks and threw interceptions while also turning the ball over on a fumble, as they struggled to get things going offensively.

George Ranch had a brutal offensive game against Foster, only gaining 85 yards through the air and 112 yards on the ground. George Ranch also had two turnovers in the game.

Taylor might be able to exploit the George Ranch defense and attack it on the ground, but will have to contend with Deion Drinkard at quarterback and Gregor Jones at receiver, which will give the Mustangs' defense a test in their final non-district game.

FRIDAY

Katy (1-0) vs. Atascocita (1-0), 6 p.m. at Legacy Stadium

Last year: Did not play

• In one of the biggest non-district games in the entire area, Katy and Atascocita will play as both teams come off big wins in week one.

Katy was as dominating as ever in the first week of the year, dismantling Clear Springs 49-16 and rushing for over 400 yards on offense.

Seth Davis picked up right where he left off last season, carrying the ball 21 times for 270 yards and three scores, while Ramarian Tillman showed impressive skill carrying the ball nine times for 67 yards. Dallas Glass and Chase Johnsey both ran in touchdowns as well.

Caleb Koger threw for 64 yards and a touchdown, which went to JR Ceyanes, and Katy's return game was in midseason form as well with Micah Koenig returning a punt 74 yards for a score. And Katy's defense was its dominant self.

Atascocita comes off just as dominant a win over Dickinson, trouncing Dickinson 37-0 in a game in which the Eagles also dominated both offensively and defensively.

Zion Brown was everywhere for the Eagles, completing 13 of 22 passes for 203 yards and three touchdowns and carrying the ball six times for 72 yards, while Tory Blaylock rushed 24 times for 104 yards and Atascocita's defense held Dickinson to just 120 yards of offense.

This will be a huge test for both teams and will show how both look early in the season. Atascocita may be able to key in on Katy's run game but the Tigers may also be able to take advantage of Brown's turnovers, as he threw two interceptions against Dickinson.

Katy is 4-0 against Atascocita in previous matchups.

Tompkins (1-0) vs. Bridgeland (1-0),
7 p.m. at Rhodes Stadium

Last year: Did not play

• Tompkins and Bridgeland play in a huge matchup with both teams entering the game at 1-0 and wanting to prove they are among the best in the Houston area, and it will be an intriguing matchup to see how both teams stack up early in the year.

It was a good first start for Chris Gilbert Jr., who threw for two touchdowns against Cy-Ranch, while Caleb Blocker was big in the running game, running in two touchdowns. And Tompkins' defense came up huge as well, with Cody Chapman coming away with an interception, while Wyatt Young continued to do his thing offensively in both the run and pass game.

Bridgeland comes off a hard fought, 24-21 win over Cy-Fair, where Jonathan Nelson had a strong performance on the ground. The Bears have some dynamic players on offense and a solid defense so it will present Tompkins with a good challenge before they open district play against Katy next week.

Mayde Creek (1-0) at Waller (0-1), 7 p.m. at Bulldog Stadium

Last year: Did not play

• Mayde Creek put on a dominant showing in the team's season opener by shutting out Westside 30-0.

For the Rams, it was their first shutout since a 34-0 win over Alvin in 2019 and it moved the team in the right direction starting the year. Carldeell Beard had an efficient day throwing the ball, going 12 for 15 for 105 yards and a score while Jerimiah Hill was great in the running game, rushing for 117 yards and two touchdowns and Reggie McNeal Jr. also ran in a score. Beau Bankston was a force in the pass game, and Hill tallied a score off a reception as well, but the biggest story of the day was the Rams' defense.

Mayde Creek held Westside to 12 yards passing and 23 yards rushing and they also forced one turnover and blocked a field goal to move to 1-0.

Waller comes out a blowout loss to Bryan, but did show some things in the pass game. Mayde Creek should again have a big day on offense while the Waller offense will provide the Mayde Creek secondary with some tests that they will need to answer.

SATURDAY

Jordan (1-0) at Kingwood (1-0), 6 p.m. at Turner Stadium

Last year: Did not play

• Jordan put on a show in its first game of the season and will look to continue that against Kingwood on Saturday in the team's first road game of the year.

Jordan could do no wrong offensively last week, scoring in every way you could draw up and punishing Aldine Davis both in the air and on the ground.

Zechariah Sample was at the middle of everything for the Warriors, scoring three times offensively while also intercepting two passes and bringing one of those back for a touchdown on defense.

Now, it's about how the Warriors can follow that up, and if they can stay focused after a big win.

Kingwood is coming off a strong showing as well, beating Clear Creek 28-6 and showing a strong pass attack in the game.

Senior quarterback Trey Reese threw for 117 yards and three touchdowns while also throwing an interception in the win and Adam Graham was the top ballcarrier for Kingwood. Drew Harrington will be a hand-ful for the Jordan secondary, as he made two big plays for touchdowns in their win.

The game will show how Jordan responds as well as showing how the Warriors' defense deals with a strong pass game.

Morton Ranch (1-0) vs. Kingwood Park (1-0), 6 p.m. at Legacy Stadium

Last year: Did not play

• It was hairy for a bit, but Morton Ranch's big players showed up when needed to get them off to a 1-0 start with a 21-19 win over Eisenhower.

Just as it was last year, it was Santana Scott and Josh Johnson who made a huge difference offensively, while Mike Gerald also had a big day.

Johnson completed eight of 17 passes for 133 yards and two touchdowns while also rushing for 59 yards and another score. Meanwhile, Scott had 108 yards on 11 carries, nearly averaging 10 yards per carry, and Ryan Hall rushed for 70 yards. Scott also had 41 receiving yards while Gerald caught three passes for 78 yards and two touchdowns.

The Morton Ranch also made a difference, sacking Eisenhower three times and causing two fumbles while blocking a field goal.

Kingwood Park comes off a 45-7 win over MacArthur and will test Morton Ranch with a strong quarterback in Jaxon Sims, a good running back in Isaiah Perez and a good wide receiver in Hayden Bender. Defensively, the Panthers have a good secondary and it will be interesting to see how Morton Ranch is able to attack it.

Paetow (1-0) at Cy-Ranch (0-1), 6 p.m. at Cy-Fair FCU Stadium

Last year: Did not play

• Paetow struggled offensively against Conroe last week, but the Panthers' defense was wildly good, holding Conroe to just a field goal in a 14-3 win. And now they get to go up against a very good Cy-Ranch squad that put up a very strong fight against Tompkins in week one.

The Panthers' defense might be able to carry them against anyone, but they will also be looking for more offensively, especially in the pass game against Cy-Park after failing to eclipse 50 yards in the first game of the season.

Koby Truehill threw for 41 yards and a touchdown, but also tossed two interceptions, and the Paetow run game wasn't quite as strong as it normally is, with Damyron Phillips leading the way with 69 yards rushing.

Cy-Ranch was able to put up resistance against Tompkins and looks like a very strong team this year. The Mustangs have an experienced squad and have a weapon at quarterback in Blake Baker and at receiver in Jarred Sample and Carson Littlefield.

The defense looks strong too and it will be a good test for both Paetow's offense and defense.

Seven Lakes (0-1) vs. Klein (0-1),
7 p.m. at Rhodes Stadium

Last year: Klein 30, Seven Lakes 0

• Seven Lakes had a decent day defensively in its season opener against Memorial last week but were unable to turn that into a win. The offense struggled all night and despite a relatively good day running the ball, the Spartans could never get anything going passing the ball.

It was untimely mistakes that ultimately cost the Spartans and they'll look to remedy that when they play Klein this Saturday, as both teams search for their first win of the season.

Klein comes off a 14-7 loss to Fort Bend Marshall, as the Bearkats also had a poor day offensively to start the season.

Klein has a strong run defense, which is Seven Lakes' strength, and offensively they have weapons in Myles Arterberry at running back as well as at receiver. It will be a good look at how Seven Lakes will also handle district foes who are strong against the run.

Houston Texans cornerback Desmond King II (25) returns an interception during an NFL preseason game between the Texans and the 49ers in Houston, Texas, on August 25, 2022.

Texans show offensive, defensive improvement against the 49ers

BY TYLER TYRE
SPORTS EDITOR

The Texans knew that they needed to show more offense in their final preseason game.

Houston had struggled on that side of the ball throughout the preseason, having troubles moving the ball and getting the run game going.

But the team seemed to find a solution to that on Thursday, as they showed flashes on offense and strong run game in a 17-0 win over the 49ers close an undefeated preseason for the team.

"Offensively, our line played really well even with us sitting a few guys," said head coach Lovie Smith. "But Davis Mills did some good things in the half he played and running back wise, Dameon Pierce has shown us things every time we give him the ball. He's a good football player. We protected the ball well too and that's always important."

Pierce continued his excellent preseason, rushing six times for 37 yards and a touchdown, averaging over six yards per carry and continuing to show why he earned the starting running back job.

Mills had his ups and downs at quarterback and finished the day going six for 10 with 58 yards and both a touchdown and an interception. But he made improvements throughout the first half.

"Dameon is running the ball really well, and when you have that and an offensive line blocking well for them and you're able to consistently run the ball downhill, it opens up a lot in the pass game," Mills said. "When you do that, it really keeps the defense guessing. Obviously we want to be a run first football team, and with Pierce back there we are really confident in being able to do that this season."

But the offense wasn't the biggest story of the night, as that went to the defense and their huge performance, shutting out the 49ers and holding Trey Lance to 49 yards on his 11 first half pass attempts.

And the Texans were just as strong against the run, holding Trey Sermon to 20 yards and the 49ers to under 75 rushing yards for the entire game.

"Defensively anytime you can get a shutout, that's really big," Smith said. "There were a lot of good things we did tonight. They did exceptional and made the right plays and it was good to see the way they competed tonight."

Now the Texans turn their attention to the regular season. They are excited to get things started but also know they need to make adjustments and improve so they are ready to go for week one.

"We improved on some things and that's important," Smith said. "We had 11 penalties in one preseason game and we've continued to improve on that. We talked about the turnover ratio and they've done really well since then and made some plays tonight, and we protected the ball well. Now the key is to take that and keep improving on it and be ready for the season. But I like a lot of what we did."

Longhorns ready to push for National Championship

Texas Longhorns senior outside hitter Logan Eggleston (33) during an NCAA volleyball match between Texas and Texas State on September 7, 2021 in Austin, Texas.

BY ZACH SMITH
SPECIAL TO THE KATY TIMES

Texas senior Logan Eggleston has received just about every individual award possible in her collegiate volleyball career.

Her fifth year with the Longhorns is all about the team, and they have one goal on their mind and one thing that would cap off a truly legendary career for Eggleston: a National Championship.

"I came back for a fifth year to win a National Championship," Eggleston said. "I want to leave the program better than I started it, and I think winning a National Championship and helping these girls grow when I'm not here next year is really the main goal."

High expectations are nothing new to Texas, which is ranked No. 2 in this season's preseason AVCA coaches' poll.

Texas has won five straight conference titles, made the NCAA Tournament 18 years in a row, finished as the NCAA runner-up in 2020 and finished the regular season as the top-ranked team before losing in the regional final.

"It's National Championship or bust for every team at Texas," head coach Jerritt Elliott said. "It's what makes it special and challenging. Our players grow up being respectful of everyone they play and getting every team's best shot. It's not easy winning, but it's not easy being Texas."

Eggleston's accolades include four All-American selections and two Big 12 Player of the Year awards. She led the Longhorns with 387 kills and 3.91 kills per set last season, hitting .308 on the year.

Elliott expects her to be even better this season.

"Her level of play, because our defensive specialists and the threat of her being taken out of that court, has rally increased her game," Elliott said. "She's making moves that we've been trying to get her to make the last three years and we're seeing big growth there."

This offseason was a little different for the Longhorns since they added 11 new players to the roster between freshmen and transfers.

Elliott said this is the deepest team he's ever had at Texas since taking over the program in 2001. He said freshmen like libero Emma Halter, setter Marina Crowover and outside hitter Devin Kahahawai are pushing for larger roles on the team.

The team did a few bonding activities to get to know each other during the offseason, including a day at the rowing center with the National Championship-winning rowing team.

Eggleston said she was very underwhelming as a rower, but it helped create more of a bond with so many new teammates.

"A lot of us are pretty used to being good at what do, and that was a totally new experience," she said. "We really had to work together and figure it out. Being put into uncomfortable situations and finding ways to be successful really translates to the court."

Texas has a difficult start to the season, traveling to Columbus, Ohio, for matches against No. 7 Ohio State on Friday and Saturday.

The Longhorns host No. 4 Minnesota in the first game at Gregory Gym next Wednesday before traveling to face No. 14 Stanford on Sept. 4.

"I would like to see our composure and how we handle stress," Elliott said. "The thing that we don't know with so many new players is how they're going to handle that stress and how they behave next to one another."

Jordan then was put in bad field position, starting on its own ten the next drive, but Sample was on a mission. He took the first play from scrimmage and turned it into a 90-yard touchdown run to give Jordan a 21-0 lead in the first quarter.

Sample had an insane stat line on the night, finishing with 116 yards rushing on just six carries to go with eight receiving yards and his two interceptions, including his pick-6.

“Zechariah is very unique as a talent,” said Jordan head coach Mike Rabe. “He does it on both sides of the ball and he does it in special teams. He’s really just a good kid, he’s fun to have in the field house, he brings energy to practice every day, he’s a good one and he’s fun to watch.”

Jordan ended the first quarter up 28 to zero and stretched that lead even further in the second, scoring three more touchdowns to go into the half with a 42-7 lead.

Marsh caught two of those touchdowns in the second quarter, with one of them being an outstanding back shoulder fade where he and junior quarterback Colin Willetts were perfectly in line with what both wanted to do.

That dominance was on display all game from the duo, as Marsh ended the night with five receptions for 92 yards and two touchdowns while Willetts threw for 171 yards and four touchdowns in the win.

“I knew coming in that I would be able to get past their secondary and get open,” Marsh said. “The offensive line did a great job of holding up protection for those deep plays and Colin was great — he kept putting the ball right where it needed to be, it was a really fun game.”

As good as the offense was for Jordan though, it was the defense that stood out the most. The Warriors held Aldine Davis to under 200 yards for the entire game and forced seven turnovers, as they never gave the Falcons room to breathe and continued to give the ball back to their offense in good positions.

“I don’t even know how we were able to get so many turnovers,” Sample said. “It’s just the chemistry we have back there. We’ve been working on it and we know each other and play together. It all came together tonight.”

The Warriors know that they can’t sit on the victory too long though, as they prepare to take on Kingwood next week, and the Warriors, like always, are looking for ways to improve their young team.

“It’s a really good win and it’s great to start the season like this,” Rabe said. “But they still have to have the mindset of showing up and getting better every day. This is good for a night and then next week we have Kingwood. So getting refocused is a really big thing for us because we haven’t had a victory like this before. Now they have to learn how to flip a switch to next week, that will be huge.”

SPARTANS

of a team learning how to compete and win at the varsity level, and for head coach Jimmy Hamon, that is something of a positive. The Spartans went through this and can learn from it before they get to their district opener.

“You never want to lose, but you’d always rather have something like this happen in non-district,” Hamon said. “I was just telling them the same thing — this doesn’t stop us from achieving our goals, this won’t stop us from making the playoffs. We have a nine-team district and we’re going to have to be one of the top four and I think we can be. We’re going to be faced with this type of game and this type of circumstance again and having gone through it, they know what needs to be done now. This can motivate us more and make us hungry and that’s what needs to happen, I’m hoping that’s the way we take it.”

Seven Lakes opened the game on a strong note, taking the opening kickoff and going on a 74-yard drive that lasted over ten plays, but a fumble at the goal line kept the Spartans from scoring at all and handed the ball back to Memorial.

The Spartans’ defense though was up to the task early on — they kept Memorial off the board through the first quarter and, early in the second quarter, Marcel Davis got the Spartans on the board with a 7-yard touchdown run that gave Seven Lakes a 6-0 lead.

Things stayed that way until the very last seconds of the first half, as Memorial drove down the field and as time expired scored on a 24-yard pass from Chase Goodwin to Tyler Navarro, a score that the Spartans’ defense was still frustrated with after the game.

“We weren’t good enough, and we are all going to take this as a learning moment honestly,” Turner said. “Everyone in that locker room was mad when we walked in, and there were a lot of us that were super frustrated. No one wants to feel that way next week, we’re going to fix it.”

Memorial took a four point lead in the third quarter off a field goal but Katy answered back with a strong drive where Barrett Hudson drove the team down the field on a big screen play followed by a big run pay. Jake Farris capped things off with a 3-yard run into the endzone to hand the Spartans back the lead, 13-10 with nine minutes remaining in the game.

Hudson ended the night with 90 yards rushing and 58 yards receiving, both tops on the Seven Lakes team while the Seven Lakes offensive line was able to make holes for the running backs all night.

“That’s one thing we can really take from today that we did well,” Hamon said. “We really rode Josh Vetter, our left tackle in the run game and we were able to do some good things. That drive in the third quarter we ran it right on Josh’s shoulder and he did a great job with their defensive end. Barrett has the patience and the willing to cut back inside to that crease and so it’s a great combination. I was really proud of the way they were able to play off each other and of that drive.”

The Spartans’ defense held on the next drive, but with the Seven Lakes offense pinned back near their own goal line after the punt, Seven Lakes went 3-and-out and gave Memorial another opportunity.

The Mustangs did not let the Spartans off the hook, driving down the field and scoring on a 30-yard pass, again from Goodwin to Navarro to take the lead with just over two minutes remaining. Seven Lakes was unable to answer back, turning the ball over on downs to end things.

The Spartans are frustrated, but they’re moving forward, and they know they have what it takes to bounce back.

“It’s a relatively new starting varsity team,” Hudson said. “I think starter wise we only have a few coming back, so for everyone to have already experienced a two minute drill on both offense and defense is huge. Obviously we wanted it to end differently, but we are going to learn from what we did wrong and correct it.”

However, a mandatory election is not required this year due to the application of unused increment on the tax rate in accordance with the Water Code. The District has issued bonds and is required to levy a debt service tax rate to support the payment on such bonds. Further, the District has infrastructure that requires regular operations, maintenance, and repairs that necessitates the levy of an operations and maintenance tax in an amount to maintain the infrastructure in good and working condition.

just as impactful.

DJ Hicks had three sacks on the night and Logan Thomas came away with two sacks, while Daymion Sanford, Stephen Green, Jarra Anderson and Rodney McDonald all came away with a sack a piece in the win, as Conroe went without a touchdown for the entire game.

“Really it’s just so fun to be a part of,” Hicks said. “Just to be able to come out, play for Coach (Lonnie) Teagle, my dad, and everyone else on the coaching staff and team is really fun. It was great to showcase what we’ve been working on all summer tonight.”

But as dominant as Paetow’s defense was all night, the Panthers’ offense struggled almost as much. The Panthers turned the ball over twice on interceptions, only managed six passing in the entire second half and were unable to take advantage of good field position a number of times throughout the game.

“We’re still trying to figure some things out on the offensive end,” said Paetow head coach Lonnie Teagle. “Coming in with a new system is a big transition and our guys are still trying to work some things out. But our guys are resilient and they played really hard. The offensive line played really well and we’re going to continue leaning on those guys.”

The Panthers had two interceptions in the first quarter, stalling drives, but were finally able to get on the board in the second quarter.

After a drive led them to the goal line, Kilgore came in as a power running back and punched the ball into the endzone on a 2-yard run to hand Paetow the lead. It was the first of Kilgore’s varsity career and he made the most of it, running down the sideline and celebrating with his teammates.

“I was super stoked about it, really it was so exciting,” Kilgore said. “I was really happy they put me in and believed in me to do that. To get the touchdown was really cool. I just hope I can help my team both on defense and offense.”

Conroe brought themselves within four points late in the second with a field goal, but that would be the Tigers’ only score of the game, as the Panthers completely shut down anything Conroe tried to do offensively.

Things remained tied through the third quarter and Paetow went back and forth at quarterback with both Koby Truehill and Brock Nichols getting reps. Paetow finally pulled away in the fourth quarter, when Truehill was able to connect on a 6-yard pass with Hicks, who had come in to play tight end, after a long run from Kilgore helped move the team down the field.

Paetow's Alex Kilgore celebrates after running in a touchdown during Friday's game against Conroe at Legacy Stadium.

“I’ve always known I could impact the game on both ends, so it really feels good to be able to do it,” Hicks said. “Whatever I need to do to help the team I’m going to do it, so if that’s scoring a touchdown of blocking or whatever it is, I’m going to be happy to do it.”

The Panthers held Conroe off from there to secure the win, which was the first of Teagle’s head coaching career.

After the game, Kilgore, along with Katy ISD Athletic Director Debbie Decker and Paetow principal Mindy Dickerson, presented Teagle with the game ball to celebrate the accomplishment.

“It’s soaked in a little bit,” Teagle said. “It’s been kind of crazy — everything has been a whirlwind but I’m soaking it in. I’ve learned over my career that you have to enjoy them all. It wasn’t the prettiest, and you always want things to be a little better in some areas, but the win is all that matters and I’m excited about it.”

The Panthers have a tough road ahead of them, facing Cy-Ranch next before jumping into district play, but it’s something the entire team is looking forward to, and they’re already trying to find ways to improve and be ready for their next opponent.

“We knew that we needed to show people this week that we can compete with anyone and our motivation this week was ‘prove it,’” Kilgore said. “Prove why we deserve to be here, prove how good our defense is and prove everything we can to everyone. For us to come out and especially defensively shut them down even with how much we were on the field was huge. We didn’t let up at all tonight. Now we have to go and do that again next week and every week after that.”

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

A tax rate of $0.548445 per $100 valuation has been proposed by the Commissioners Court of Waller County.

PROPOSED TAX RATE	$0.548445 per $100
NO-NEW-REVENUE TAX RATE	$0.513460 per $100
VOTER-APPROVAL TAX RATE	$0.548445 per $100

The no-new-revenue tax rate is the tax rate for the 2022 tax year that will raise the same amount of property tax revenue for Waller County from the same properties in both the 2021 tax year and the 2022 tax year.

The voter-approval rate is the highest tax rate that Waller County may adopt without holding an election to seek voter approval of the rate.

The proposed tax rate is greater than the no-new-revenue tax rate. This means that Waller County is proposing to increase property taxes for the 2022 tax year.

A PUBLIC HEARING ON THE PROPOSED TAX RATE WILL BE HELD ON September 14, 2022 at 9:00AM at the Waller County Courthouse Room 201 located at 836 Austin Street in Hempstead, Texas 77445.

The proposed tax rate is not greater than the voter-approval tax rate. As a result, Waller County is not required to hold an election at which voters may accept or reject the proposed tax rate. However, you may express your support for or opposition to the proposed tax rate by contacting the members of the Commissioners Court of Waller County at their offices or by attending the public hearing mentioned above.

YOUR TAXES OWED UNDER ANY OF THE TAX RATES MENTIONED ABOVE CAN BE CALCULATED AS FOLLOWS:

$$\text{Property tax amount} = (\text{tax rate}) \times (\text{taxable value of your property}) / 100$$

No-New-Revenue Maintenance and Operations Rate Adjustments

Indigent Health Care Compensation Expenditures

The Waller County spent $125,287 from July 1, 2021 to June 30, 2022 on indigent health care compensation expenditures at the increased minimum eligibility standards, less the amount of state assistance. For the current tax year, the amount of increase above last year’s enhanced indigent health care expenditures is $18,232. This increased the no-new-revenue maintenance and operations rate by $0.000224/$100.

Indigent Defense Compensation Expenditures

The Waller County spent $738,258 from July 1, 2021 to June 30, 2022 to provide appointed counsel for indigent individuals in criminal or civil proceedings in accordance with the schedule of fees adopted under Article 26.05, Code of Criminal Procedure and to fund the operations of a public defender’s office under Article 26.044, Code of Criminal Procedure, less the amount of any state grants received. For the current tax year, the amount of increase above last year’s indigent defense compensation expenditures is $96,582. This increased the no-new-revenue maintenance and operations rate by $0.000394/$100.

If the district adopts a combined debt service, operation and maintenance, and contract tax rate that would result in the taxes on the average residence homestead increasing by more than eight percent, the qualified voters of the district by petition may require that an election be held to determine whether to reduce the operation and maintenance tax rate to the voter-approval tax rate under Section 49.23603, Water Code.

The 86th Texas Legislature modified the manner in which the voter-approval tax rate is calculated to limit the rate of growth of property taxes in the state.
